Illinois kept up its winning ways in 2005-06, Bruce Weber's third season leading the Orange and Blue. The Illini went undefeated in non-conference play for the second straight year and opened the season with 15 straight wins. Illinois was the Big Ten runner-up with an 11-5 record, missing a third straight conference title by just one game. The team received a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the second round with a victory over Air Force. Illinois finished the year with a 26-7 record, tying the fourth winningest season in school history, and ranked 13th in the final Associated Press poll. Dee Brown was a consensus second-team All-American and won the Bob Cousy Award as the nation's top point guard, while James Augustine earned first-team All-Big Ten honors.

Illinois has compiled an overall record of 89-16 during Weber's first three seasons, giving him the best winning percentage in the 101-year history of Big Ten basketball.

THE WINNINGEST ILLINI - DEE BROWN AND JAMES AUGUSTINE

You will find the names of Dee Brown and James Augustine all over the Illinois records book. They are two of the most influential players in school history in every aspect of the game, whether it be points, rebounds, assists, steals, minutes, etc. But much more important than any individual statistic was the success that the Illini program had during their tenure. Brown and Augustine played in a total of 114 wins over their four-year careers, making them the winningest players in school history. The Illini won 25 games during their freshman season, highlighted by the 2003 Big Ten Tournament title. As sophomores, Illinois won 26 games, captured an outright Big Ten Championship, and advanced to the Sweet 16. Brown and Augustine played on the most successful team in school history as juniors, as Illinois tied the NCAA record for victories in a season with 37, won both the outright Big Ten Championship and Big Ten Tournament title, advanced to the Final Four and finished as the National Runner-Up. They wrapped up their careers by leading the Illini to a 26-win season as seniors in 2006.

Dee Brown and James Augustine played in 114 wins during their Illini career, the most in school history and ranking second in Big Ten history. In addition to their many accomplishments on the basketball court, both Brown and Augustine earned bachelor's degrees in sport management from the University of Illinois.

The Centennial Season of Illinois basketball in 2004-05 stands as the greatest season in school history and one of the best in NCAA history. Illinois flirted with perfection during Bruce Weber's second season as UI head coach, winning its first 29 games to tie the 12th best start in NCAA history and mark the third best start in Big Ten history. Illinois won its second consecutive outright Big Ten championship with a 15-1 league record, as Weber became the first coach in Big Ten history to win back-to-back outright conference titles in his first two seasons. Illinois then won the Big Ten Tournament championship at the United Center and headed into the NCAA Tournament with a 32-1 record and the overall No. 1 seed in the tournament bracket.

The Allstate Arena in Rosemont, Ill. was the site of arguably the greatest comeback in school history, and certainly the most memorable. Illinois erased a 15-point deficit to Arizona in the final four minutes of regulation in the Chicago Regional Final, and then defeated the Wildcats in overtime to secure a trip to St. Louis for the Final Four. Illinois routed Louisville in the National Semifinal to advance to the NCAA Championship game for the first time in school history where the Illini finished as the National Runner-Up.

The day after the NCAA Championship game, the Illini basketball team returned to Champaign and attended a rally with 25,000 fans at Memorial Stadium honoring their accomplishments. Illinois tied the winningest season in NCAA history with its 37-2 record. The Illini were ranked No. 1 in the national polls for 15 straight weeks, including the school's first-ever No. 1 ranking in the final Associated Press Poll. Weber collected an unprecedented 10 National Coach of the Year awards and the Illini set another record with three consensus All-Americans as Dee Brown earned first-team honors and Deron Williams and Luther Head earned second-team distinction.

Illinois won the 2004 Big Ten Championship in Bruce Weber's first season, capturing the school's first outright conference title since 1952. With that accomplishment, Weber became just the third coach in the history of the Big Ten Conference to win an outright league title in his first season. Illinois had to win its final 10 conference games to claim the championship, including six-straight wins on the road. In the final week of the regular season, Illinois posted a pair of dramatic road victories, first at Purdue in overtime to clinch a share of the title, and then at Ohio State to win the outright championship. The Illini earned a No. 5 seed in the 2004 NCAA Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16 with victories over Murray State and Cincinnati. Illinois finished the year with a 26-7 record, 13-3 in the Big Ten, and ranked 11th in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches' poll.

The Shot (2004 edition): With Illinois tied 79-79 at Purdue in overtime, Luther Head grabs an offensive rebound off a miss by Roger Powell and puts back a contested shot with the clock winding down.

The Aftermath: The Illinois bench and thousands of Illini fans who traveled to the game erupt in celebration after Head's putback goes in, giving the Illini an 81-79 victory.

Our relationship has grown so much over the past three years, and I love Coach because of the confidence and love he has for me. He got me to focus on things like leadership, trusting your teammates and team chemistry, and how you need to work on your weaknesses. I feel so blessed to have played for Coach Weber and to put on that Illinois uniform. I wouldn't be where I am today without this coaching staff, these fans and this university, and that's why I have so much love for Illinois. "The Illinois coaching staff definitely helped me develop during my career. Coach Weber is honest, intense, and he pushes you to get better, which is exactly what I needed as a player. The drills we did in practice and our style of play made it easy on me when it came time for NBA workouts because it was the same stuff that I had done every day for the past three years. My strengths are running the floor, rebounding, and playing the pick-and-roll and pick-and-pop, and I was able to showcase those abilities in Coach Weber's system. I had an awesome experience at Illinois, and I'm going to miss playing in front of Krush and all our fans in the best arena in the country, the Assembly Hall."

— James Augustine

ILLINOIS OWNS THE NATION'S BEST HOMECOURT RECORD OVER THE LAST FOUR YEARS AND IS 93-4 AT THE ASSEMBLY HALL THIS DECADE.

When it's time to take the game on the court, Illinois has an outstanding home in Assembly Hall. The Hall has served as home to the Fighting Illini since its construction in 1963 and in 1999 it became even better after a multi-million dollar construction project that brought the team a new locker room, training room and dining area, as well as a new tunnel area to accommodate network television trucks and team buses. The most recent addition to The Hall was a $1.7 million state-of-the-art videoboard installed prior to the 2004-05 season.

Illinois opened play at the Assembly Hall on March 4, 1963 with a 79-73 victory over Northwestern. Since that first game, the Illini have racked up a 466-120 (.795) mark. Since 1963, Illinois has sold out 187 games at the Assembly Hall, which seats 16,618. Illinois ranked ninth in the nation in home attendance in 2005-06, selling out every game of the season and setting a number of attendance records. The season average home attendance of 16,618 was the best in school history, and with all 16 games at capacity, it marked the most sell-out crowds at the Assembly Hall in a single season.

The Illini will carry a school-record streak of 28 consecutive sell-outs into the 2006-07 season.

Fans help turn the Assembly Hall into a sea of orange for every Illini home game, with practically every person in attendance proudly wearing orange. That, combined with the Orange Krush student cheering section surrounding the court, gives the Illini one of the best home court advantages in the country.

Therefore, it's no surprise that Illinois has produced a 93-4 record at the Assembly Hall the past seven years, trailing only Gonzaga for the nation's best homecourt record this decade. The Illini are 56-2 at the Assembly Hall over the past four years, owning the best homecourt winning percentage in the nation at 96.6 percent. Illinois has gone undefeated at The Hall three of the past six seasons, posting a 12-0 mark in 2000-01, a 14-0 mark in 2002-03, and a 15-0 record in 2004-05.

In addition to hosting the Fighting Illini, the Assembly Hall also holds performances for Broadway musicals, concerts and other shows. Some of the recent shows and performers to take the Assembly Hall stage have been Dave Chappelle, Ludacris, Kanye West, Nelly, Dave Matthews, Pearl Jam and U2.

"Assembly Hall at the University of Illinois is in my Top Five of the best basketball venues in America. The Hall has a truly great atmosphere. The crowd rings the court and gets really loud, with the Orange Krush providing a great home court advantage. When the Illini are rolling, the crowd is painting the Hall orange, and the Illinois flags are sprinting around the concourse, there's nothing like it. Illinois is always tough to beat, but in Assembly Hall, you have to play a near perfect game to have a chance."

HOME COURT ADVANTAGE

"The Assembly Hall is an intimidating place. When you combine the Orange Krush, the Illini band and a very intense fan base, it makes for a great home court advantage. The success over the last seven years with a 93-4 record backs it up."

-Illinois Head Coach Bruce Weber

UBBEN BASKETBALL COMPLEX

In October 1998, Illinois moved into the state-of-the-art Richard T. Ubben Basketball Complex on the campus of the University of Illinois. This $5.5 million dollar facility is a direct result of the university's commitment to excellence in athletics. It houses not only a full-sized practice court, but its features include locker rooms for the coaches and players, a players' lounge, video review room, training room and weight room. The 40,000-square-foot facility is home to everything the players need to make it through the day. After classes, players can spend time studying or using the computers in the video room. The locker room has lockers for each player and is adjacent to the players' lounge and video room.

When it's time to get taped before practice, the players just walk across the hall to the fully equipped training room which is located next to the practice court. In the area of strength and conditioning, the players have use of the weight room which has free weights, Nautilus equipment, treadmills and a Stairmaster. The team utilizes both the weight room at the Ubben Complex and Huff Gym.

Players can relax, watch TV and play video games in the Ubben team lounge.

The Illini watch film, go over scouting reports and have team meetings at the Ubben Basketball Complex.

Tip-off of the UI-Xavier game at the United Center on Dec. 3, 2005. Illinois defeated Xavier to post its 15th consecutive win at the UC.

Chicago is a home away from home for the Fighting Illini basketball team. Every December, Illinois travels to Chicago to play at the United Center. This year also marks the seventh time that the Big Ten Tournament will be held at the UC.

Illinois has played 34 games at the United Center the past 12 seasons, compiling an all-time record of 28-6 (.824). The Illini carry a 15-game winning streak over the last five seasons at the UC heading into this year's game vs. Illinois-Chicago. With last year's 65-62 win over Xavier, Chicagoland products Dee Brown and James Augustine finished their UI careers a perfect 12-0 at the UC.

The Illini are a major draw when they come to the Chicago area due to the widespread fan support and huge alumni base. In 2005, Illinois made two trips to the Windy City in March. The Illini played before three sell-out crowds at the United Center en route to winning the Big Ten Tournament, setting conference tournament attendance records along the way. The Illini returned two weeks later for the NCAA Chicago Regional at the Allstate Arena, defeating Wisconsin-Milwaukee and Arizona to secure a trip to the Final Four.

The Illini played four games in front of standing-room-only crowds of over 21,000 at the United Center during the 2004-05 season.

In addition to its exposure in Chicago, Illinois also has a strong following in St. Louis. Never was that more apparent than in 2005, when orange was the dominant color at the Edward Jones Dome and throughout St. Louis during the Final Four. When the Illini took the floor for practice on the day before the Final Four, 31,500 fans were on hand for what is believed to be a record crowd for an NCAA Final Four Open Practice. Illinois played in front of a school-record crowd of 47,754 in the National Semifinal win over Louisville and then faced North Carolina in the championship game in front of 47,262 fans.

Each December, the Illini head to St. Louis to face Missouri in the annual Busch Braggin' Rights game. It is without question one of college basketball's top non-conference rivalries, with the Scottrade Center crowd split right down the middle, half cheering on the Illini and half rooting for Mizzou. This year marks the 26th edition of the Busch Braggin' Rights game. Illinois owns a commanding 17-8 advantage in the annual series, with the Braggin' Rights trophy residing in Illinois for the past six years.

Tip-off of the 25th anniversary Busch Braggin' Rights in St. Louis. Illinois won last year's game 82-50, the largest margin of victory in the history of the series.

Last year, Illinois celebrated its sixth straight Braggin' Rights win over Missouri.

"The Orange Krush are super, scintillating and sensational! They are a fantastic sixth man for the Fighting Illini. However, what makes them so unique is their willingness to help people in need and helping out with various charities, such as the V Foundation. Yes, they are special. To put it in 'Vitalese' they are awesome baby, with a capital A!"

— ESPN Analyst Dick Vitale

Orange Krush is a student-run cheering section of dedicated Illini students who love basketball. Krush membership has risen dramatically to well over 700 screaming Illinois students sitting courtside, supporting Head Coach Bruce Weber and the Illinois men's basketball team. Members arrive hours before the game to get the best seats on the floor on game day, with the line of Orange Krush students waiting for the doors to open extending halfway around the Assembly Hall.

Not only is the Orange Krush considered the nation's premier basketball student section, but it is a charity foundation as well. All students interested in membership in the Orange Krush must participate in the Orange Krush 3-point shot program, which raises money for local charities.

Founded in 1998, the Orange Krush Foundation (formerly Team Krush Foundation) is a University of Illinois student-run foundation intent on improving the quality of life for the youth and young adults of the Champaign-Urbana and campus community by financial providing support and contributing community service to area not-for-profit organizations.

Since the inception of the Orange Krush Foundation eight years ago, Krush members have raised and donated over $1 million to charity. The Orange Krush Foundation is almost entirely student-run and has donated funds to worthy causes including The V Foundation for Cancer Research, The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, Make-A-Wish Foundation, and Developmental Services Center.

In addition, the Orange Krush Foundation created the Matthew Heldman Memorial Scholarship Fund, which honors Matthew Heldman, a point guard for the 1997-1998 Big Ten Championship Team, who was tragically killed in a car accident in 1999.

The fund, in his name, endows a scholarship for a future Illini basketball player. After five years, the Orange Krush fulfilled the $250,000 commitment, and the fund is fully endowed.

During the 2003 season, the Orange Krush Foundation announced the formation of the Rod Cardinal Sports Medicine Fund. This fund pays tribute to Rod Cardinal, who was the University of Illinois men's basketball athletic trainer for 30 years. The endowment benefits all student trainers at the University of Illinois, which in turn benefits all varsity athletic teams.

At the conclusion of the 2005 season, Orange Krush announced its newest endeavor, creating the Louis and Dawn M. Weber Student Manager Enhancement Fund. Named in memory of Coach Weber's parents, the fund benefits Illinois' men's basketball managers.

Visit www.illinipride.com to view a list of all charities that have benefited from the Orange Krush Foundation and how each group has utilized their donation.

As part of its celebration commemorating the 100th year of basketball as a varsity sport during the 2004-05 season, the University of Illinois Division of Intercollegiate Athletics unveiled its All-Century Team. This 20-man team was selected after voting by thousands of fans on www.fightingillini.com and the Illinois Basketball Centennial Committee. The team was honored during the Illinois Basketball Centennial Reunion Weekend, held Jan. 28-30, 2005, and banners displaying the names of the All-Century Team hang permanently at the Assembly Hall.

There is no question that physical and mental dominance of an opponent is the goal of every major basketball program in the country and a sports specific strength and conditioning program plays a vital part in the success of any basketball team. Jimmy Price, the strength and conditioning coordinator for men's basketball, is committed to the physical and mental development of each and every Illini basketball player.

"The bottom line is that the team which dominates its opponent physically and mentally is going to win the game," Price said. "It is our personal mission to put each player in the best possible position to be successful on the basketball court."

The strength and conditioning program is designed to make each student-athlete a better basketball player. There are many different contributing factors to physical dominance in the sport of basketball. The key is to be able to produce power in all three planes of movement and have great single-leg strength, balance, and stability. Basketball athletes require a training program that has a main focus on the development of power for the enhancement of movement efficiency. Incorporating basketball specific movements and single-leg strength movements is paramount for basketball.

The Basketball Strength and Conditioning program philosophies are based on 10 key principles:

- 1. Ground Based Activities: Select lifting exercises and conditioning drills that apply force with the feet against the ground such as cleans, jerks and squats.
- 2. Multiple-Joint Actions performed with both single-leg and double-leg exercises: Multiplejoint actions improve your athletic performance coordinating simultaneous muscle contractions and movements in a coordinating fashion.

3. Three-Dimensional Movements: Sport skills involve movements in three planes of space simultaneously: forward-backward, up-down, and from side-to-side.

The incorporation of cable movement drills, multi-directional hops and bounds, and multidirectional lunging patterns enhance a player's ability to change direction, have unilateral knee stability and strength, and also will enhance an athlete's court athleticism.

- 4.Train Explosively: The amount of force required for a given activity is regulated by the use of two different types of motor units found in the body: fast twitch and slow twitch. These factors combined mean a fast twitch fiber can generate up to four times greater force that a slow twitch fiber, which is key to being explosive on the basketball court.
- 5. Progressive Overload and Force Application: Application of the load has crucial impact on maximizing performance and keeping sport injuries to a minimum. Overload occurs when the body responds to training loads greater than normal. Speed of execution and intensity of load are the key factors used to progressively increase an athlete's maximal power production.
- 6. Application and Periodization: Use different combinations of volume and intensity to generate different body responses. Volume and intensity are determined according to each individual's need and time of the year.
- 7. Split Routine: The split routine allows good recovery and rebuilding as well as at least two full days of recovery from each exercise.
- 8. Speed Day/Strength Day: Each training day is designated by the type and velocity of the movements being performed.
- 9. Train the Correct Energy System: The primary objective of conditioning is to improve your energy capacity and, therefore, improve your performance. This means that if your sport requires explosive movements, then the training should be tailored around this principle.
- 10. Proper Sports Nutrition: This concept is of the utmost importance and is often most overlooked by student-athletes. Each and every variable in this area affects the outcome of the training day and the future of the next training session. Many student-athletes take this area for granted, which is a critical mistake because it is vital to completely replenish used energy stores. If this does not happen, recovery for the next workout will be compromised.

"The use of these 10 principles is key in the process of developing explosive, athletic basketball players," Price said. "It is crucial for basketball student-athletes to maximize their explosive potential on the court. We think this type of training will have the greatest effect not only on the vertical jump but also the other vital skills that it takes to become a superior basketball athlete."

Working closely with athletic trainer Al Martindale and the coaching staff is the most effective way to implement and monitor an effective workout regime that best suits the individual needs of the student-athlete. Price uses a hands-on method of coaching for teaching proper techniques and lifting methods.

"Toughness begins with practice and training," Price said. "You cannot expect to be mentally tough in a game if you are not mentally tough during practice and training."

Basketball Training Program Goals:

- Maximize Basketball athleticism through training explosively in three planes of movement.
- Enhance lateral speed, change of direction, and first step explosion.
- · Enhance single-leg strength, speed and explosion for the purpose of injury prevention.
- Enhance Core Strength and Athletic Flexibility through sports specific sequence stretching.
- Increase level of anaerobic basketball conditioning and mental toughness.
- Strengthen joints and faulty muscle imbalances in order to prevent injuries and optimize movement efficiency.
- · Educate athletes on proper nutritional habits to optimize lean body mass-to-fat mass ratio.
- "It is a long and rigorous season," Price concluded. "The team that is in the best shape mentally and physically will rise above the competition at the end of the season. All of our training and practices are focused around one goal: winning in March and April."

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

BASKETBALL STRENGTH ROOM

Fighting Illini basketball players have the opportunity to maximize all components of sports performance in a state-of-the-art facility within the Ubben Basketball Practice Facility. Located just a few steps from the practice floor, the strength and conditioning room incorporates cutting edge equipment and programs to help the UI athletes maximize their potential and prepare them for the long and demanding college basketball season.

A key tool in the process of increasing an athlete's explosive potential is the Vertimax. With the Vertimax, athletes utilize varying levels of resistance provided by cords while performing single and double leg jumping routines. Illinois players also utilize many three-dimensional movement pattern drills in order to maximize first step quickness and direction change efficiency. Jimmy Price, the team's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator, supervises all workout sessions.

"We feel that the strength and condition of our team is vital to competing at the highest level," Illinois head coach Bruce Weber said. "The Big Ten is a strong and physical conference and our players work very hard in the weight room to be prepared for each game. If you look over time in this League, the strongest, toughest and most explosive teams are usually the most successful."

JIMMY PRICE

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Jimmy Price, CSCS, SPN is in his fourth year with the Illini as an assistant strength and conditioning coach and sports nutritionist under Jim Zielinski. Currently, Price serves as the Strength and Conditioning Coordinator as well as the Sports Nutritionist for both the men's and women's basketball teams and the Illini volleyball team. Prior to joining the staff at Illinois, Price served as an Assistant Strength Coach and Sports Performance Nutritionist at Texas Tech University where he spent five years working with the football, men's and women's tennis, track and field, and the men's basketball team under Coach Bob Knight. Price earned his bachelor's degree in exercise sports science with an emphasis in fitness, wellness and nutrition from Texas Tech University.

A native of Amarillo, Texas, Price served in the United States Marine Corps from 1996-2002, where he was a physical training and nutritional liaison for the Marines of his detachment. After graduation he worked for the Red Raiders in the areas of Strength and Conditioning and Sports Nutrition. Price currently holds certifications as a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and Specialist in Performance Nutrition.

ACADEMIC SERVICES

The goal of each sports program within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics at the University of Illinois is to strive toward success. The DIA has taken a comprehensive approach to the success of the student-athlete. The Illini Life Skills program is designed to meet the total needs of the student-athlete.

Sponsored by the NCAA, the Illini Life Skills program is comprised of five programming commitment areas viewed as critical to personal growth and development. The commitment areas are: academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, service to campus and surrounding communities and career development.

This comprehensive balance of academic excellence, athletic achievement and personal well-being is stressed daily by the staff and coaches. Inevitably, a student-athlete's playing days will end, but with the assistance of the Illini Life Skills program, each Fighting Illini athlete will be fully prepared for career and personal challenges ahead.

Presentations and workshops in many of the above areas can be ordered from the Illini Life Skills menu on an individual or team basis. Each program is tailored to the specific individual's request.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE: Among the elements stressed by the academic services department to assure student-athlete success are counseling and tutorial services, a monitoring program and state-of-the-art computer labs. The Irwin Academic Center, the former Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity house, opened as a center to consolidate academic services for studentathletes.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE: Athletically, the University of Illinois has long supported a broad-based sports program. Its coaching staff and facilities are among the nation's best. The UI's support units included excellent staffs for recruiting, equipment, facilities maintenance, fund raising, publicity and promotions. Its sports medicine staff not only assists student athletes in strength training and conditioning, but also in personal health maintenance.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT: As important as the UI's commitment is to the student-athlete's performance in the classroom and on the field, it also considers the individual's spiritual and emotional needs, and his/her career objectives. Fighting Illini student-athletes are afforded the opportunity to attend a variety of seminars during their collegiate experience, helping them enhance their future following athletics. Among the seminars offered are those in career placement, financial planning, time and stress management, sexual harassment, drug and alcohol education and player/agent relations.

SERVICE: The DIA also sponsors a Student Athletic Advisory Committee (SAAC), which is made up of representatives from all 19 Fighting Illini intercollegiate athletic teams.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT: The strong relationships built within the vast Illinois alumni networking system provide excellent opportunities for all student-athletes, whether it be for summer jobs, internships or in career placement after graduation. Once the individual's career is established, the DIA asks for participation in a follow-up program that allows student-athletes to benefit from their predecessors' experiences.

IRWIN ACADEMIC CENTER GETS NEEDED EXPANSION

This fall, the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics broke ground on the expansion of the Irwin Academic Services Center. With the great continued support from the Irwin Family Foundation, this project will assist student-athletes in many academic areas. The $4.6 million expansion of the Irwin Center will add 11,400 square feet allowing more opportunities for the student-athletes to achieve their academic goals. Student resource areas comprised of a presentation room, a new general study area, individual tutoring and study rooms, and a computer lab will allow this all to happen. Student-athletes will have more access to computers; better environments to meet with tutors with less distraction and the opportunity have more space to concentrate on the academic endeavors.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA) was chartered in 1892 as a not-for-profit corporation of the State of Illinois. It was charged with overseeing and conducting the University's intercollegiate athletic programs and associated support services, and operated as a separate entity.

After the state legislature voted in June 1989 to bring UI athletics within the University proper, the DIA assumed the functions and responsibilities of the Athletic Association. The DIA began operations officially July 1, 1989, and now, more than a century after University of Illinois athletics began, the mission is still to achieve excellence both in the classroom and in sport competition.

The director of athletics is the division's chief executive officer, and reports directly to the chancellor of the Urbana-Champaign campus. The chancellor has final authority regarding the athletic program in all areas except for budget and major appointments. Those decisions rest with the University of Illinois Board of Trustees.

The Athletic Board serves the DIA in an advisory capacity. It is composed of 20 members, (nine faculty, four alumni, three students and one trustee); and the three non-voting (ex-officio) members from the University administration. The faculty and student members are nominated by the Urbana-Champaign Senate and selected by the chancellor.

The DIA does not receive state tax dollars and over the years has been able to fully fund the NCAA maximum allowable number of athletic scholarships for student-athletes in each of its sports programs, as well as to hire excellent coaches and maintain and upgrade its facilities, staying on par with the best major collegiate programs across the nation.

This has been accomplished through revenues derived from the following major sources: gate receipts from football and men's basketball; television and radio rights fees for those two sports and corporate sponsorships and donations to the I FUND. The I FUND contributions provide the maximum allowable number of scholarships in the 19 men's and women's sports at an average annual cost of approximately $16,000 for in-state student-athletes and about $27,000 for those from outside Illinois.

FACILITIES

The DIA utilizes and maintains 15 facilities for competition and the administration of 19 sports. The facilities include Memorial Stadium, Assembly Hall, Huff Hall, Illinois Field, the Outdoor Track & Field and Soccer Stadium, the Armory, Atkins Tennis Center, Kenney Gym, the University of Illinois Orange and Blue Golf Courses, the Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building, the Ubben Basketball Practice Facility, Eichelberger Field Softball Complex, the Irwin Indoor Practice Facility and the Irwin Academic Center. The DIA will add a 16th facility in the fall with the completion of the Demirjian Indoor Golf Complex.

Four years ago, a total refurbishing of the football complex took place in time to host the NFL Chicago Bears for the 2002 season. The first floor was reconstructed to expand and upgrade the Illini locker rooms, create permanent meeting room space and a more conducive sports medicine facility. Also added to the stadium in 2002 was a state-of-the-art video scoreboard as well as photo panels that adorn the North endzone.

In 2000, the construction of the $12.5 million indoor football practice facility was completed, located just east of the current football complex and locker room. The football practice field opens directly onto the East Outdoor Practice Field.

In 1992, the DIA completed an $18 million renovation project on Memorial Stadium, replacing the main and balcony stands on the east and west sides of the Stadium.

In 1998, the Irwin Academic Center opened on campus, providing UI student-athletes with state-of-the-art computer study areas, conference rooms, career planning and placement and other academic programs all under one roof. The Irwin Center is utilized by over 600 student-athletes on an annual basis.

PRESIDENT B. JOSEPH WHITE

University of Illinois President B. Joseph White took office as the University of Illinois' 16th president on Jan. 31, 2005, to lead the further development of what he calls the university of the future.

White, 58, is familiar with both public higher education and the Midwest. He spent nearly three decades affiliated with the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, where he received his doctorate in business administration in 1975. He also served there as interim president, dean of the business school and faculty member.

Upon the announcement of his selection as president by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees in November 2004, White stated four aspirations:

— 1) To continue to build the performance, stature, reputation and resources of the University; 2) To ensure that the work of the University is hard-wired to the needs of the people of Illinois, especially in education, economic development and health care, vital matters that touch every citizen; 3) To focus intensively on maintaining access to the University as a gateway of opportunity...as well as the excellence of the University; and 4) To ensure that University campus communities are models of diverse people working together.

Among White's primary focuses since taking office have been development of a strategic plan, Creating a Brilliant Future for the University of Illinois, and the forging of what he calls a compact among five principal parties to provide the resources needed to ensure excellence. The compact consists of:

1) State support continuing to play a vital role;

2) Tuition payers and their families carrying an increasing share of the burden while the University provides financial aid to ensure access;

3) Faculty members doing their part through excellent work and success in winning competitive research grants and contracts;

4) Donors doing their part through generous giving;

5) And University leadership making the best use of resources with which they have been entrusted.

Before coming to the University of Illinois Joe White was the Wilbur K. Pierpont Collegiate Professor, professor of business administration and research professor in the Life Sciences Institute at U-M, leading the development of the Project for a Positive Healthcare Future. The project focuses on improvements in efficacy, patient and provider empowerment and efficiencies that can result from advances in biology, engineering and information science applied to the practice of medicine.

White is a native of Detroit who was reared in Kalamazoo. He earned his bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, in international economics from the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service in 1969 and an MBA, with distinction, from Harvard University in 1971 and doctorate in business administration in 1975 from the University of Michigan. He first joined the U-M faculty as assistant professor of organizational behavior and industrial relations in 1975; was associate professor from 1978-80; associate dean in the U-M Business School 1987-90, interim dean 1990-91; president of the U-M William Davidson Institute 1993-2001; dean of the Business School 1991-2001, and interim president in 2002. The William Davidson Institute is a center of expertise on economic and business development in emerging market economies.

White also has private-sector experience, including six years at Cummins Engine Co., Inc., 1981-87, first as vice president for management development and then as vice president for personnel and public affairs. White is an independent director or trustee of several companies, including Equity Residential, headquartered in Chicago; Gordon Food Service; and Kelly Services. He is a director of the W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research. He has chaired the boards of several large healthcare organizations, including the University of Michigan Health System, St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor and the Catherine McAuley Health System.

White is on the board of the American Council on Education, which serves as a consensus leader on key higher education issues and seeks to influence public policy through advocacy, research and program initiatives. He also serves on the President's Circle of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.

He has written, taught and lectured extensively on leadership, management and organizational matters. He received an honorary degree from Wabash College in 2003. White was recently appointed to the Chicago 2016 Evaluation Committee to explore the City of Chicago's possible pursuit of the opportunity to host the 2016 Olympic Games.

He and his wife, Mary White, are the parents of two grown children and have two grandchildren.

CHANCELLOR RICHARD HERMAN

As Chancellor at Illinois, Dr. Richard Herman is committed to excellence in education, scientific and intellectual innovation, diversity, engagement with societal needs, and internationalizing the education of students. He continues to encourage and support interdisciplinary research and new alliances-including partnerships between government, universities, and industry-to create opportunities for progress in basic and applied research.

Dr. Herman is a leader in national discussions about transforming public research universities and the land-grant mission to meet the needs of the twenty-first century. As a member of the National Council on Competitiveness and National Innovation Initiative, he works to foster relationships between the academic world and the national business community, maximizing the contributions that research universities can make in preserving U.S. competitiveness in the global economy.

For many years, Dr. Herman has played a leading role in discussion of national science policy, consistently stressing the need to bettet position the sciences to engage the emerging needs of society. In February 2006, Dr. Herman was appointed by President Bush to the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology. He joins a select group of members from the academic community and the private sector who advise the president on technology, scientific research priorities, and math and science education. He also served on the National Science Foundation's Advisory Committee for the Directorate of Mathematical and Physical Sciences and served as Chair of the Joint Policy Board for Mathematics. He currently serves on the Mellon College of Science Advisory Board and is a member of the Observatories Council, the Management Council of the Association of Universities for Research in Astronomy, Inc., associated with the National Optical Astronomy Observatory.

A mathematician whose work concentrates on mathematical physics and operator algebras, Dr. Herman's research has been supported by such agencies as the National Science Foundation, NATO and NDEA and has resulted in numerous reports in scientific publications. He is a member of the Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Xi honorary societies and recipient of an Alexander von Humboldt Foundation fellowship. Before coming to Illinois, he served on the faculties of the University of California at Los Angeles, Pennsylvania State University and the University of Maryland at College Park. #### DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS RON GUENTHER

Now in his 15th year as Director of Athletics at the University of Illinois, Ron Guenther has returned his alma mater to the national elite in competing for championships in 19 intercollegiate sports with outstanding coaches, staff and facilities, including two straight Top-25 finishes in the NACDA Director's Cup competition and an NCAA title for the Illinois men's tennis program in 2003. In 2001, he was named the NACDA/Continental Airlines

Central Region Athletic Director of the Year. The MVP of the 1966 Illinois football squad, Guenther continues to move the Illini athletic program on a breakneck pace toward a position of competing at a championship level in all programs.

Guenther has overseen a series of dramatic changes that have local, regional and national media, alumni and fans marveling at his ability to add sport programs in women's soccer and softball, recruit top-level coaches, successfully engineer and surpass a $70 million capital campaign and create a model program producing outstanding student-athletes. He is currently leading a second major capital campaign to expand and renovate facilities, strengthen endowment and increase annual giving to offset the rising cost of tuition.

Under Guenther's leadership, Illinois has steadily improved its performance on the field and in the classroom. Off the field, Illinois student-athletes have continued to benefit from outstanding academic service programs, matching the overall campus grade point average and producing nearly 100 Academic All-Big Ten award winners annually in all sports.

Guenther has also spearheaded a revolution for funding for championshiplevel programs and facilities as the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics has opened necessary additional revenue streams totaling more than $3 million through working partnerships with corporate sponsors and management of the Illini Sports Radio Network.

Guenther's aggressive plan to make the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics a valuable and enthusiastic partner in the overall education, research and service mission of the University has begun to pay dividends in the 21st century.

Now in his fourth decade with the University of Illinois, Guenther was the Most Valuable Player on the 1966 Illinois football squad under Head Coach Pete Elliott. He was a second-team All-Big Ten selection at offensive guard, also earning first-team Academic All-Big Ten honors recognition as University's outstanding senior in physical education. Guenther earned his bachelor of science degree in physical education from Illinois in 1967 and an M.S. in administration in 1968

> Guenther was named the 17th Director of Athletics on May 14, 1992 after serving for two years with the University of Illinois Foundation as Director of Major partner with The Barofsky Association, a Chicago-area investments and marketing firm. From June of 1988 to March of 1989, Guenther served as Interim Director of Athletics for External Operations, administering the development program, public relations, promotions, tickets, merchandise and summer camps.

Guenther spent the previous three years within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as associate athletic director for development, coordinating the "Campaign for Excellence in Athletics." That campaign began the first major facelift of athletic facilities in nearly 60 years on campus and provided the impetus for the eventual construction of Illinois Field for baseball, the U1 Outdoor Track and Field and Soccer Stadium, the Atkins Tennis Center and the Irwin Football Complex, housing coaches offices, locker rooms, sports medicine, strength and conditioning facilities and meeting rooms for Illinois football. One of the nation's top athletic fund raisers, Guenther has been instrumental in soliciting gift commitments totaling more than $50 million toward capital improvements at Illinois during the last 15 years.

Firmly committed to delivering the Illinois message across the state and Midwest, Guenther served from 1983 to 1987 as assistant athletic director for Chicago operations, renewing a commitment that continues today to reach out to the thousands of Chicago-area alumni, donors and fans.

During his tenure in Chicago, Guenther created the annual statewide caravan for promotion and public relations and saw a tripling in the number of donors to Illinois athletics.

Guenther spent eight years at North Central College in Naperville, Ill., including a stint from 1975-79 as director of admissions and also as an associate head football coach. From 1979-83, he served as the vice president of development and public affairs at North Central, helping to design and implement a $15 million Capital Campaign. As associate head football coach, Guenther helped the Cardinals amass a 23-12-2 record, including the school's first winning season in 15 years.

Before moving to North Central College, Guenther was offensive line coach at Boston College from 1971-74, helping to develop nine National Football League players. From 1968-71, Guenther was a teacher and coached football, wrestling and track and field for the Evanston Township and Glenbard High School systems in suburban Chicago.

Born Oct. 3, 1945, Guenther is a native of Elmhutst, Ill. and a graduate of York High School. He lettered at Illinois in 1965 and 1966, helping Illinois to a 24-14-1 record in his four seasons. Guenther earned MVP honors on a squad that produced five All-Americans in 1966.

He was inducted into the Chicagoland Sports Hall of Fame on Sept. 22, 2005. Guenther and his wife, Megan, reside in Champaign.

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois exercises final authority over the policies and governance of all three campuses of the University (Chicago, Springfield, Urbana-Champaign), within limits fixed by the Illinois Constitution and state law.

There are nine statewide trustees appointed by the governor. Each serves for six years. Their terms are staggered, with three expiring every two years. All trustees serve without pay. The governor is also an ex officio member of the board, with a vote.

In addition, three students, one each from the campuses of Chicago, Springfield, and Urbana-Champaign, serve single-year terms on the board.

Trustees elect their own chair annually in January. The chair for 2006 is Lawrence C. Eppley.

One of the most dramatic and dignified traditions in college athletics is the performance of Chief Illiniwek at the University of Illinois. Since 1926, this symbol has stirred pride and respect in audiences at Memorial Stadium, the Assembly Hall and Huff Hall.

Illiniwek (pronounced "ill-EYE-nih-wek") was the name of the loose confederation of Algonquin tribes that once lived in the region. The French changed the ending to "ois" in naming what became the state of Illinois. Illiniwek means "they are men" and former Illinois football coach Robert Zuppke is believed to have suggested calling the UI symbol Chief Illiniwek.

In 1926, Assistant Band Director Ray Dvorak conceived the idea of performing an American Indian dance during halftime of the Illinois vs. Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia. Lester Leutwiler, a student interested in Indian lore, was chosen for the role. Leutwiler's performance, done in a homemade costume, was received so well that he was asked to continue his dance through the 1928 season.

A. Webber Borchers, the second Chief Illiniwek, was the first to appear in authentic American Indian regalia. He initiated a campaign to raise money to replace his homemade outfit with an authentic one, but with the Depression on, he received just $15 dollars. However, a Champaign merchant stepped in to fund the rest and Borchers was off.

He recalled: "In the summer of 1930, I went, at my own expense, to the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota. 1 hitchhiked out, called an Indian agent and explained my mission. He and an Indian trader called in an older Sioux woman. She and two younger women made the suit."

On Nov. 8, 1930, in New York's Yankee Stadium, Illinois faced Army in the seventh game of the season. It was there that Borchers made the first appearance of Chief Illiniwek in that outfit. Since then, five different authentic outfits have been used by Chief Illiniwek. The one used in performances now was purchased in 1983 from Sioux Chief Frank Fools Crow, and is topped by a headdress of turkey feathers.

This year marks the 81st year of Chief Illiniwek.

BRUCE WEBER HAS WON 192 GAMES AS A HEAD COACH, WHICH ARE THE THIRD MOST WINS IN NCAA HISTORY BY A COACH AFTER HIS FIRST EIGHT SEASONS.

The Illinois basketball program has enjoyed unprecedented success both in the Big Ten and nationally under Head Coach Bruce Weber during his three-year tenure.

Despite losing three starters and 63 percent of its scoring from the 2004-05 NCAA runner-up squad, Weber directed the 2005-06 Illini to a third consecutive 25-win season, a runner-up finish in the Big Ten, the second round of the NCAA Tournament, and a ranking among that nation's top 17 teams throughout the entire season. The Illini spent the majority of 2005-06 ranked in the Top 10 and recorded 26 wins on the year to tie the fourthwinningest season in school history.

Weber has won 89 games during his first three years at Illinois, which are the most wins ever by a Big Ten coach in his first three seasons, and are the secondmost wins ever by a Big Ten coach over any period of three-straight seasons. He owns the best winning percentage in the 101-year history of Big Ten basketball, having won 84.8 percent of his games while at Illinois (89-16). Weber also ranks as the second-winningest coach in the nation over the last five seasons, totaling 141 victories.

Weber has won 73.3 percent of his games during his eight-year tenure as a head coach (192-70), which is the eighth best winning percentage in the nation among active Div. I coaches. Weber's 192 victories rank as the third-most wins by a head coach in NCAA Div. I history through eight seasons.

Weber has earned a solid reputation in the college ranks and with NBA personnel as a coach who stresses player development and fosters an unselfish brand of basketball where the most important facet is team chemistry. Weber strives for an up-tempo motion offense coupled with hard-nosed man-to-man defense, traits that translate well to the NBA game.

Weber has had four players selected in the NBA Draft over the past two years, as Deron Williams (No. 3, Utah Jazz) and Luther Head (No. 24, Houston Rockets) were taken in the first round of the 2005 Draft and James Augustine (No. 41, Orlando Magic) and Dee Brown (No. 46, Utah Jazz) were chosen in the second round of the 2006 Draft. Utah's selection of Williams at No. 3 overall in the 2005 lottery made him the highest drafted player in Illinois history.

Weber's second year at Illinois, the 2004-05 season, will be remembered as the greatest in Fighting Illini history, in a remarkable year where Illinois celebrated its centennial season of basketball. The Illini reeled off 29 straight wins to start the year, tying the 12th-best start in NCAA Div. I history and the third-best start in Big Ten history. Illinois also secured its secondstraight outright Big Ten championship with a 15-1 league record, as Weber became the first coach in Big Ten history to win consecutive outright titles in his first two seasons. Illinois then added a Big Ten Tournament championship in addition to its regular season title.

Illinois won 37 games on the year to tie the NCAA record for victories in a season. The UI made its first Final Four appearance in 16 years and advanced to the NCAA Championship game for the first time in school history, finishing as the national runner-up. The Illini were ranked No. 1 in the nation for 15 straight weeks, including a first-ever No. 1 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

With all that Illinois accomplished during the season, it is no surprise that Weber swept the 2005 National Coach of the Year awards, claiming the following: the Naismith Award, the most prestigious coaching award in college basketball; the Henry Iba Award, presented by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association; and, the Adolph F. Rupp Cup. Weber was also named National Coach of the Year by the NABC, Associated Press, The Sporting News, Basketball Times, CBS/Chevrolet, Victor Awards and Nike Championship Basketball

It took just one season for Weber to etch his name in the Big Ten and Illinois record books after leading the Fighting Illini to its first outright Big Ten title in 52 years during the 2003-04 season. In leading his young team that featured just one senior on the roster, Weber became just the third coach in the history of the Big Ten to win an outright title in his first season. Illinois

WEBER HAS WON 84.8 PERCENT OF HIS GAMES AS HEAD COACH AT ILLINOIS (89-16), WHICH IS THE BEST WINNING PERCENTAGE IN THE 101-YEAR HISTORY OF BIG TEN BASKETBALL.

"WHEN I TOOK THE JOB AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS, I SAID WE HAD AN OPPORTUNITY TO WIN THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP, AND WE CAME WITHIN A SHOT OF DOING THAT TWO YEARS AGO. THE GOAL OF OUR PROGRAM NOW IS TO MAINTAIN THAT HIGH LEVEL AND WIN A NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP FOR ILLINOIS."

-Illini Head Coach Bruce Weber

had to win 10 straight to end the regular season to claim the championship, including six-straight wins on the road.

Illinois' 26 wins in 2003-04 tied the fourth-winningest season in school history. Weber also led the Illini to the Sweet Sixteen with NCAA Tournament victories over Murray State and Cincinnati.

Weber took charge as the 16th Fighting Illini men's basketball coach on April 30, 2003, after spending the previous five seasons as head coach at Southern Illinois University. He led the Salukis to the top of the Missouri Valley Conference with championships in 2002 and 2003 before continuing the trend at Illinois where the Illini have won outright Big Ten titles in two of his first three seasons.

Energetic and personable, Weber has appeared on numerous national radio and television programs. Fame and success have not changed him, as he remains generous and humble. On road trips, no job is beneath him as he often helps team managers load the bus or passes out drinks and sandwiches to his players and staff. Weber's warm personality has made him a popular figure in the state of Illinois, as he is a frequent guest at civic clubs, booster club meetings, golf outings and many other speaking engagements.

In his five seasons at SIU, Weber took the Saluki program to the top of the Missouri Valley Conference, winning league titles in 2002 and 2003. He posted records of 28-8 and 24-7 in his last two seasons, leading the Salukis to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances, including a run to the Sweet Sixteen in 2002 with wins over Texas Tech and Georgia at the United Center in Chicago. His .689 (62-28) winning percentage in MVC play ranked 12th in the long history of the league. Weber earned Missouri Valley Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors following the 2003 season.

The trademark of Bruce Weber-led teams has been fundamentally sound defense, holding opponents to 40 percent shooting from the field in 2002 and 2003, 42 percent in 2004, 41 percent in 2005, and 40 percent in 2006. Illinois led the Big Ten and ranked 11th in the nation in scoring defense in 2006, giving up an average of only 58.7 points. On the offensive end, the Salukis averaged 75.5 points in 2002 and 74.5 points in 2003, while Illinois led the Big Ten in scoring in 2004, averaging 72.8 points, and ranked second in 2005, averaging 77 points.

At the age of 50, Weber has 27 years of coaching experience at the collegiate level with one season at Western Kentucky under Keady before moving with the long-time Boilermaker coach to West Lafayette the following year. He was named the Southern Illinois head coach prior to the 1998-99 season. In his one season at Western Kentucky, the Hilltoppers won the Ohio Valley Conference and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In Weber's 18 years at Purdue, the Boilermakers won six Big Ten titles, played in 14 NCAA Tournaments and had three NIT appearances. His association with Keady also allowed Weber to gain experience on the international level. He was an assistant coach for the USA Team at the World University Games in 1989 and head court coach for the Pan American team trials in 1991. Weber assisted Gene Keady in preparation for the Jones Cup, World University Games and Pan American Games.

Born Oct. 19, 1956, the Milwaukee-native began his career as a volunteer assistant coach at Madison High School in Milwaukee and a varsity assistant at Marquette University High School.

Weber earned a bachelor's degree in education from Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1978 and a master's degree in education administration and physical education from Western Kentucky in 1981.

Bruce and his wife, Megan, have three daughters, Hannah, Christy and

While in Muncie, Ind., he helped Ball State to the school's first outright Mid-American Conference West Division Championships and the Elite Eight of the National Invitational Tournament in 2002.

Webster was a three-year letterwinner and three-time team captain at the University of Wisconsin from 1992-94. He was team MVP and earned second-team All-Big Ten honors in 1992, was a third-team all-conference pick in '93 and earned honorable mention honors in '94.

Webster is the Wisconsin school record holder for career assists (501) and ranks No. 2 in career steals (183). He also stands 12th on the Badgers' career scoring chart with 1,264 points. He owns two Wisconsin season records, setting marks for 3-point percentage (.490 in 1991-92) and assists (179 in 1992-93).

After wrapping up his playing career, Webster served as the coordinator of community outreach programs at Wisconsin from 1994-97. He began his coaching career as the head freshman and varsity assistant coach at Verona High School in Wisconsin from 1997-98. He then served as an assistant at the Division II level at Wisconsin-Parkside during the 1998-99 season.

Prior to his tenure at Ball State, Webster spent 1999-2000 as the director of Webster Extramural Basketball Productions and as a care coordinator at Willowglen Academy in Milwaukee.

Webster earned his bachelor's degree from Wisconsin in 1995. He is married to the former Shenetta Richardson.

-Bruce Weber

Bruce Weber hired Gary Nottingham as assistant to the head coach for the program on June 11, 2003.

Nottingham, who worked with Weber as a graduate assistant at Western Kentucky, was head coach at Glenville State College from 1983-1997 and at the University of South Carolina-Spartanburg from 1997-2002, compiling an overall record of 272-262. At the end of the 2002 season at Spartanburg, Nottingham ranked among the Top 50 in career wins among the 290 active NCAA Div. II basketball coaches.

Nottingham was just 26 years old when he earned his first head coaching position at Glenville in 1983. He was the 1993 West Virginia Conference Coach of the Year after leading Glenville to a 21-5 record and No. 18 ranking in NAIA, the school's best season since 1942. The Pioneers finished second in the WVC that season with 17 league wins (a school record), the school's highest conference finish since '42. Nottingham led Glenville to second place at the 1995 WVC Tournament and to five semifinal appearances in his 14 seasons.

His best season at South Carolina-Spartanburg came in 1998 when he led the Rifles to a 22-7 mark, the NCAA Div. II Regional Semifinals and Top 20 national ranking. Spartanburg won the 1998 Peach Belt Championship.

Nottingham earned a bachelor's degree from Glenville State in 1979 and a master's degree from Western Kentucky in 1980. He and his wife, Jennifer, have two children, Paulina and Jacob Quin.

The Sports Medicine Staff: Dr. Jeff Kyrouac, Al Martindale and Dr. Robert Gurtler.

When it comes to sports medicine, the University of Illinois has the finest in medical personnel to keep the Fighting Illini basketball players healthy and on the court. The sports medicine staff's No. 1 goal is the prevention of injuries, but in the unfortunate event of an injury the staff works diligently to get the athlete back into playing condition as quickly as possible.

The sports medicine team would not be complete without the team physicians, who tend to the medical needs of the student-athletes.

Dr. Robert Gurtler is the head team physician/orthopedic physician and Dr. Jeff Kyrouac is the team physician.

Gurtler has been on the team's medical staff since 1984. He is responsible for treating orthopedic injuries to athletes in varsity sports. In addition to his duties with the U of I, Gurtler has a private practice at Carle Hospital, focusing primarily on sports-related injuries.

Kyrouac is in his fourth season in this capacity for the UI basketball program, and has served the Fighting Illini football program since January 2001. He provides consultations to the athletic training staff. He received his M.D. from Southern Illinois University, School of Medicine in 1980 and is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine. He serves as a clinical Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

RICHMONDS ENDOW BASKETBALL COACH'S POSITION

The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has been close to Jack Richmond all his life.

The Champaign resident, U of 1 graduate and retired businessman is a longtime benefactor to his alma mater. A lifelong Fighting Illini fan, Jack Richmond and his wife, Marge, endowed the salary of the men's basketball head coach position with a gift of $2 million. This gift significantly increased their previous seven-figure commitment to the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Their generosity extends across the U-C campus. In May 2004, Jack made a six-figure gift creating the Jack C. Richmond Scholarships for the benefit of student-athletes who are members of the men's varsity gymnastics team. In September 2003, the couple made a $1.5 million gift to name and dedicate the Richmond Family Gallery, the first floor reception area of the new University of Illinois Alice Campbell Alumni Center. The Richmonds also provided a $2 million gift to the College of Communications in 1998 that created the Richmond Journalism Teaching Studio, a broadcast facility for journalism students in Campbell Hall for Public Telecommunication. The Richmond Studio and the Richmond Family Gallery honor Jack and Marge as well as the memory of Jack's parents, Arthur Dean and Mildred Hummel Richmond.

"The Richmond Family Endowed Men's Head Basketball Coach" is another example of the generations-long benevolence of the Richmond family. Jack, whose ancestors helped settle Champaign County, said his parents contributed to the U of I for the construction of Memorial Stadium. Seven-year-old Jack was on hand for the dedication of Memorial Stadium on Oct. 18, 1924, a day forever highlighted by Red Grange's five touchdowns during an Illinois romp over top-ranked Michigan. Jack has been hooked on Fighting Illini sports ever since.

But before Jack could attend the U of 1, he learned a few lessons in life. The Richmonds were devastated by the Great Depression, losing their significant holdings of farmland and other assets. The dramatic change in lifestyle had a profound effect on Jack.

It also made him further appreciate the University of Illinois,

His years at the U of I were greatly satisfying. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity and was active in sports. As a freshman gymnast who earned his numerals with the U of I team, Jack said he broke his sternum following a dismount from the flying rings. No longer able to compete as a gymnast, he focused his attention on weight training. At that point, weights weren't popular and were nonexistent at the U of I.

"I always thought that weight training, if done properly, would help athletes. Nobody believed me," he said.

Still, he convinced Seward Staley, director of the U of I School of Physical Education, to purchase a set of Olympic weights. A small but dedicated weight lifting team was formed, and the sport spread first to the intramural level and then was adopted by the physical education department as a P.E. course.

Today, the benefits of weight training are widely recognized and top-notch equipment is readily available across campus. Jack smiles and says, "I feel like I was 60 years ahead of my time."

And those muscles paid off for Jack, who was a railroad worker, wrecking crew member, meat truck driver, corn detassler, lifeguard, bouncer and even a model for the U of 1 art school to pay for his education. He graduated in 1943 with a bachelor's degree in agriculture.

He followed up his four years of ROTC at the U of 1 with a tour in the Army. Then he put his degree to work when he joined the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service as a county farm planner, opening district offices in Macon County and Clark County.

Later, Jack was recruited by a former member of the U of I gymnastics team as a salesman for Marchant Calculators. His capacity to sell was exceptional, and he soon had clients from area grain elevator operators to the U of I. He remained with Marchant, which was acquired by Smith Corona and became known as SCM Corp., until 1972. Then he was ready to embark on a new course — the stock market.

He had dabbled in the market since 1955, but by the early 1970s he had the time and resources to become more active in the stock market. He enjoyed success in this realm as well, and was more than willing to share. A donor since 1965, his generosity to the U of 1 increased significantly over the years. Jack and his mother became members of the Presidents Council in 1976 and Marge became a member in 1990. The Richmonds are lifetime members of the Alumni Association as well.

Always interested in athletics at the U of I, Jack and Mildred Richmond had made a $1 million commitment to the Athletic Department in 1981. He became an honorary member of the I Man's Association and has been a member and former president of the Illini Quarterback Club since 1955. He also joined the Rebounders Club shortly after former head coach Lou Henson founded it. Jack is also a life member of the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund.

The Richmond name will be forever associated with athletics at the U of I through the endowment of the men's basketball head coach position. Jack said he hopes his gift ensures success for the Fighting Illini basketball program for future generations through the Richmond Family Endowed Men's Head Basketball Coach.

For lifelong Illini fan and generous supporter Jack Richmond, it just doesn't get any better.

Now that Illinois has established itself as one of the winningest programs in the nation this decade, the challenge is to keep moving forward. An unprecedented stretch that shows the Fighting Illini winning at least 25 games in each of the last six seasons and posting one of the most impressive home-court records in college basketball history proves Illinois belongs among the elite national programs. Following the graduation of Dee Brown and James Augustine, two of the winningest collegiate players ever, it's up to a new group of core players to continue the tradition of excellence.

"It's going to be an interesting year, because when looking at the Big Ten as a whole, there's not a whole lot of experience across the board," said Head Coach Bruce Weber. "Even though we lost two great players, we probably have as much experience returning, with three starters, as many of the teams. I hope that becomes a benefit. But at the same time, I don't know if we're experienced in last-second situations, with who will step up and make a big play or a big bucket. We relied on other guys to do that the last two years who have all moved on now, whether it was a Dee Brown, Deron Williams, Luther Head, James Augustine or Roger Powell. That leads into leadership, and I think that's a big thing with this team, who will be the leaders? It's something that we've really worked on, any type of leadership opportunity that they can have we've tried to give that to them, because that may be the key."

To compete for a sixth Big Ten title in 10 seasons and an eighth-consecutive NCAA Tournament berth, the Illini will need improvement across the board to compensate for the losses of Brown and Augustine.

"You can't replace Dee Brown and James Augustine with just a couple guys," Weber said. "You can't replace 1-for-1 with each one. They were two of the greatest players in history in terms of wins and stats — not just Illinois history, but Big Ten history. It's not going to be easy to do that. The other thing they had, besides numbers, was great work ethic and a winning attitude — that belief that you're supposed to win. I think those guys always thought they should win, that's all they knew, and then it became a habit mentally."

Weber, the nation's second-winningest coach over the last five seasons with 141 victories, also believes off-season workouts could be a key factor in the development of the 2006-07 squad.

"This past summer, more than any other since I've been here, their improvement on skills, strength and athleticism was more crucial than ever," Weber said. "They needed to take on that responsibility to get in the weight room, play extra, come in late and shoot. I told the guys that if everybody improves two percent, we improve as a team 15-20 percent, then we'll be very competitive. And if we're competitive within our league and things go our way, then we should be in good shape come tournament time. But we've got a lot of work to do and a long way to go before we can even start talking or thinking about the postseason."

"We've got some athleticism, length and quickness at a number of different positions," Weber added. "So we could be an up-tempo team, and we should be a solid defensive team once again."

Returning starters for Weber include 6-3 senior guard Rich McBride, 6-8 junior forward Brian Randle and 6-10 junior center Shaun Pruitt. McBride enters the season as a proven 3-point shooter and scorer, while Randle is best at or above the rim and Pruitt has become one of the league's best post players.

McBride is Illinois' leading returning scorer at 10.0 points per game last season, while proving to be one of the better 3-point marksmen in the league, shooting over 40 percent from behind the arc. He started all 33 games a year ago and has proven to be a solid ball handler with a career 1.64 career assist-to-turnover ratio.

"Our current seniors made some strides last season as juniors, and we'll look for them to take another step up this season," Weber said. "Rich McBride worked very hard two summers ago to get in better condition and then started every game. We've known he can shoot it, what helped him was that he really improved defensively."

Randle, one of the Big Ten's most athletic players, averaged 8.5 points and 5.4 rebounds a year ago. He also earned a reputation as the Illini's defensive stopper and was named to the Big Ten All-Defensive Team. After playing an entire season without losing significant time due to injury, Randle returns as one of the team leaders after earning captain status last season.

Pruitt earned a spot in the starting lineup last year after significantly improving his conditioning and strength from his freshman season. Another year should mean even more improvement, as he averaged 6.2 points and 5.1 rebounds last season.

"Brian Randle and Shaun Pruitt will obviously be key players for us again," Weber said. "Brian finally got to a play a whole injury free season last year and did a good job, especially defensively. He's becoming more confident and is someone who the players turn to for leadership.

"Shaun was another guy who, like Rich, really improved his conditioning and moved into the starting lineup. He got his feet wet and showed some nice signs and we'll look for more consistency this season from him."

A year ago, Weber mentioned the current senior class as key to Illini success. Once again, Warren Carter and Marcus Arnold will be counted on to join McBride in leadership roles. Carter averaged nearly five points and three rebounds as a versatile forward off the bench, while Arnold added nearly four points and three rebounds in his role. Arnold had a solid summer as the leading scorer for the Big Ten traveling All-Star team that toured Australia.

"Marcus Arnold had his moments, and Warren Carter showed promise as well," Weber said. "I think a big key will be can those guys go from being role players to being consistent producers every game? Because of his position and the need to fill James Augustine's spot, Warren may really be the key. He's athletic and a good shooter, if he really steps up that would be a big positive for our team."

Weber, who has compiled a 39-9 Big Ten record in his first three seasons, feels the sophomore class will provide a boost to this year's squad. Guard Jamar Smith averaged 8.0 points per game while shooting better than 48 percent from 3-point range to lead the Big Ten in that category. It will be hard to keep Smith out of the starting lineup as he has added 10 pounds to his frame and shows some terrific leadership qualities.

Chester Frazier will battle Trent Meacham at the point-guard position. Frazier averaged 13 minutes a game last year, while Meacham sat out the season per NCAA transfer rules after coming to Illinois from Dayton. As a freshmen for the Flyers, Meacham averaged 6.4 points and nearly three assists per game. Calvin Brock returns as one of the most athletic players on the squad and with expectations to contribute in a much bigger role after redshirting two years ago and seeing limited time off the bench last season.

"We're excited about what Jamar Smith and Chester Frazier gave us last year as freshmen," Weber said. "Jamar really seemed to embrace that role of coming off the bench and providing offense. He's a guy who plays with a lot of confidence and enthusiasm. Chester works so hard on his own and in practice, and I think we'll see that translate onto the playing floor more this year. He's learning that you can't run through walls all the time, sometimes you've got to find doors to go through. Calvin Brock has also worked hard. He's had two years in the system now, so he's more comfortable and hopefully is ready to be a contributor."

"Trent Meacham is an intelligent player who has very good skills," Weber added. "He played quite a bit as a freshman at Dayton, so he'll have as many minutes as a lot of our guys in key situations against quality opponents. It will be interesting to see where his confidence level is at after sitting out a year. He can play both guard spots. He's a steady point, but he's also known for his shot, catching the ball and shooting."

In addition to Meacham, three others will be making their first appearances in an Illini uniform. C.J. Jackson, a 6-8 forward, redshirted as a true freshman and will be in the mix for playing time in the post. Two freshmen join the program this year in 6-11 center Brian Carlwell and 6-9 forward Richard Semrau. Both figure to provide depth at the center and power forward positions.

ILLINOIS DASNEI DALL | CUACHES | MENTAN | MENTAN | MENTAN | MENTAN |

"Brian Carlwell is an Illinois product, from a high school with a great tradition, Proviso East. Brian's very tall and long. He has a lot of athleticism and length that he can give us and add to our frontcourt. Adjusting to the intensity that you have to have every day will determine if he can give us minutes right away. But I think he has all the tools.

"Richard Semrau is a very skilled forward," Weber added. "He has a great feel for the game, is a good passer and a pretty good shooter. For comparisons sake, he's a more athletic Jack Ingram. He can step out on the court and hit that 15 footer, and has the ability to also go inside. We feel good about him as well.

"C.J. Jackson had a rough time with injuries last year which held back his progress," Weber continued. "Now that he's finally healthy we're hoping he can get back on track. He can set a screen, he can rebound, and I think he can defend in the post. Now that he's healthy, we'll look for him to find a niche on our team."

For the third-consecutive season, the Assembly Hall will be full for each home game, as the season will be sold out with season tickets once again. In fact, a waiting list which began in August has grown to more than 2,500 names requesting more than 6,500 tickets. The Illini are carrying a school-record streak of 28-consecutive sellouts into the 2006-07 season.

During the current decade, Illinois has posted a 93-4 (.959) home record, including three undefeated seasons on the famed Assembly Hall floor. Illinois owns the nation's best winning percentage at home over the past four years with a 56-2 record (.966). The Illini also enter the season carrying a winning streak of 46 consecutive wins at The Hall against nonconference opponents, tied for the longest non-conference homecourt winning streak in the country.

"I can't say enough about the Assembly Hall atmosphere, it's fantastic," Weber said. "You walk into the arena and you are just surrounded by the sea of orange. During my first year the orange theme kind of took on a life of its own and kept gaining momentum to where it is now, when we paint the hall orange for every game. The students, the Orange Krush, really all of our fans have come together to create this environment and I think it's something in which they take great pride. They have helped make the Assembly Hall a very tough place for our opponents to visit."

The Illinois schedule will once again be challenging. The Illini are set to play the latter half of the Chicago Invitational Challenge against Miami of Ohio and either Bradley or Rutgers on Nov. 24-25 at the brand new Sears Centre in the Chicago suburb of Hoffman Estates. The annual ACC/Big Ten Challenge game has Maryland coming to the Assembly Hall on Nov. 28. The Illini then play Arizona in Phoenix as part of the inaugural Hall of Fame Challenge on Dec. 2.

UIC is on the docket for Illinois' annual contest at the United Center in Chicago on Dec. 9, an arena where the Illini have won 15 straight games over the past five years. Illinois will play Missouri in the 26th annual Braggin' Rights game, carrying its six-game winning streak over the Tigers into St. Louis on Dec. 19. The Illini end the non-conference portion of the schedule by traveling to Cincinnati to take on Xavier on Dec. 29.

The always competitive Big Ten Conference will offer a challenging slate of games with the Illini playing Wisconsin, Ohio State, Purdue and Penn State just once.

Illinois is scheduled to appear on national television at least 14 times during the regular season, with at least 12 appearances on the ESPN family of networks and at least two appearances on CBS.

Illinois continued its winning ways in 2005-06, posting a 26-7 overall record as the program recorded its sixth straight 25-win season, the longest in school history and doubling the longest streak of any team in Big Ten history. Illinois went undefeated in nonconference play for the second straight season and was in the race for a third straight conference title before finishing second in the league standings with an 11-5 record, missing the Big Ten crown by just one game. The Illini then made their seventh straight NCAA Tournament appearance, advancing to the second round.

The 2005-06 season also marked the farewell for two of the most influential players in school history and the winningest duo ever to wear the Orange and Blue in seniors Dee Brown and James Augustine.

After losing three starters and 63 percent of its scoring from the UI's national runner-up squad, Brown and Augustine helped pass the winning attitude on to their young Illini teammates in 2005-06. Illinois began the season with 15 straight wins, which included a perfect 14-0 sweep of the nonconference

Ouring the 2005-06 season, Dee Brown earned consensus Second-Team All-America honors and won both the Bob Cousy Award as the nation's top point guard and the Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award as the nation's top player 6-feet and under.

slate. Key victories during that stretch included: Warren Carter's last second shot to defeat Wichita State ... a Big Ten/ACC Challenge victory at North Carolina, where the Illini ended UNC's 21-game winning streak at the Dean Dome ... a come-frombehind win over Xavier for the Illini's 15th straight victory at the United Center ... dominating wins over Georgetown and at Oregon in a span of less than 48 hours ... and topped off with a sixth straight victory over Missouri in the 25th anniversary of the Braggin' Rights game.

In a Top-10 showdown to open up conference play, the sixth-ranked Illini welcomed No. 7 Michigan State to Champaign. Dee Brown took over the Assembly Hall that night, putting on one of the greatest performances in recent years by an Illini player. Brown erupted for a careerhigh 34 points, which included 23 in the first half, as Illinois improved to 15-0 on the season.

Brown and Augustine combined for 49 points to carry the Illini to an exciting victory over Michigan a week later. Illinois then closed out the month of January with four consecutive wins, highlighted by a 15-point victory at Wisconsin as the Illini defeated the Badgers for the second year in a row at the Kohl Center.

Hopes for another Big Ten championship took a hit, however, when Penn State shocked the Illini, 66-65, in one of the biggest upsets of the college basketball season, ending the UI's school-record 33-game winning streak at the Assembly Hall. But the Illini responded to that adversity well, winning five of its final six conference games, including its last three, to close out the regular season.

On an emotional senior day at the Assembly Hall, the Illini defeated Iowa as Brown and Augustine broke the school record for career wins. Illinois then went on the road for its last two Big Ten games, playing the role of senior day spoiler with big victories at Minnesota and at Michigan State.

Illinois, which had the second most wins nationally over teams ranked in the top 50 of the RPI, received a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament and traveled to San Diego for the first and second round. Illinois won its ninth straight first-round game, defeating No. 13 seed Air Force behind Jamar Smith's

James Augustine was a First-Team All-Big Ten selection in 2005-06 and became the first player in Illini history to record 1,000 career points and 1,000 career rebounds 20 points. The Illini then dropped a 67-64 heartbreaker to No. 5 seed Washington in the second round, narrowly missing a third consecutive appearance in the Sweet 16.

Dee Brown and James Augustine left Illinois as college graduates, earning bachelor's degrees in sport management, and as the winningest players in school history, owning a school-record 114 career wins. Arguably the most popular athlete in Illini basketball history and the face of college hoops the past two seasons, Brown was a consensus secondteam All-American as a senior and won the Bob Cousy Award as the nation's most outstanding point guard. He topped the Illini in five statistical categories during the 2005-06 season, leading the team with a scoring average of 14.2 points and ranking first in assists, steals, minutes and free throw percentage. Brown's name is listed all over the Illinois record book, as he has played the most minutes, played the most games, and started the most games of any player in school history. Brown ranks third on the Illini alltime scoring chart with 1,812 career points, is second in school history in career 3-pointers, career assists and career steals and is third in career field goals. His career assists total ranks fifth in Big Ten history, while his career 3-pointers and career steals totals rank sixth in Big Ten history.

Augustine was a first-team All-Big Ten selection as a senior, ranking second on the Illini in scoring with an average of 13.6 points. He led the team in both field goal shooting and rebounding, ranking fourth in the nation in field goal percentage at 62.4 percent and ranking third in the Big Ten in rebounding, averaging 9.1 boards. A model of consistency throughout his UI tenure, Augustine became the first player in Illini history and just the 12th player in Big Ten history to record over 1,000 career points and 1,000 career rebounds. Augustine finishes his career ranked 17th on the UI scoring list with 1,383 points and is the school's all-time leader in field goal shooting at 61.7 percent and rebounding with 1,023 boards. Augustine equaled Brown's record for career games and leaves the UI ranked fourth in career blocked shots, eighth in career free throws and minutes played, and 10th in career steals.

Following the season, both seniors were chosen in the NBA Draft as Augustine was the 41st pick by the Orlando Magic and Brown was the 46th pick by the Utah Jazz. It marked the second straight year that the Illini had two players drafted and the fourth time in the last five years that the Illini were represented in the NBA Draft. Illinois has now had a total of seven players drafted since 2002, which leads the Big Ten and is the third-highest total of any program in the nation over the last five years.

And while the Illinois program continues its unprecedented run of success on the court, ranked as the second-winningest program in the nation this decade, Fighting Illini basketball remains the hottest ticket in the state. Illinois ranked ninth in the nation in home attendance during 2005-06, setting a school record for highest average season attendance at 16,618 fans per game. Illinois played in front of a sell-out crowd in every game at the Assembly Hall last year, a school-record 16 games, and will carry a school-record streak of 28 consecutive sell-outs into the 2006-07 season.

The 2005-06 Illini won 26 games to tie the fourth winningest season in school history. Illinois finished the season ranked No. 13 in the Associated Press poll and No. 17 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll.

#17 ILLINOIS 90. SOUTH DAKOTA STATE 65

NOV. 18, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

This was not the smooth, methodical effort that Illinois became known for in 2004-05.

The 17th-ranked Illini beat South Dakota State 90-65, but they had to overcome some sloppy play to do it.

Illinois committed 20 turnovers, a number reached only twice during its 39-game run to the national title game last April. But with three starters gone from a lineup that started 42 consecutive games together, the new Illini are still getting to know each other on the court.

Brown scored 19 points and James Augustine had 18 points and 14 rebounds as Illinois (1-0) won its 22nd consecutive home game.

South Dakota State committed 21 turnovers and its two best big men were in foul trouble all night. Ben Beran, who added 11 points, and Mohammed Berte both fouled out with more than 5 minutes to go.

Augustine and Shaun Pruitt, who scored 15 points, were able to have their way inside with Beran and Berte limited to a combined 38 minutes on the court.

South Dakota State led twice early, but Illinois used an 8-0 run to take a 15-10 lead with 14:41 to go in the first half. Even though the Jackrabbits scored the next five points to tie the score, Illinois never trailed again.

The Illini put the game away with a 13-4 run to close out the first half after South Dakota State closed a 10-point Illinois lead to 33-28 with 6:29 to go on Holdren's 3-pointer and a layup by Andre Gilbert.

Augustine and Brown hit free throws, then Pruitt got a basket and Calvin Brock had a pair of free throws to give the Illini a 38-29 lead with 3:15 to go.

GAME 2

#17 ILLINOIS 71, TEXAS-PAN AMERICAN 59

NOV. 20, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL

Dee Brown scored 20 points and No. 17 Illinois bounced back from a poor-shooting first half to beat Texas-Pan American

Brown hit five 3-pointers for the Illini, who trailed by 10 points with 8:19 to go in the first half before their shots started to tall.

Pan American was able to get the ball to the basket early and its zone defense kept the Illinois out on the perimeter.

Nineteen of Illinois' 35 first-half shots were from behind the arc and it hit only six of them. Meanwhile, the Broncs were getting the ball inside.

A 3-point play by Kano Edwards broke a 13-13 tie and ignited a 10-0 Pan Am run. Dexter Shankle had a layup, Derrick East tipped one in and David Burrell had a fast-break layup to put the Broncs up 23-13.

Illini freshman Jamar Smith started Illinois' comeback when he finally got a 3-pointer to go with 7:11 left. Rich McBride hit two more, Chester Frazier hit another and finally James Augustine's layup with 1:53 to go gave Illinois a 31-30 lead.

The Illini closed the half with a 23-9 run and led 36-32 lead at the break.

Pan Am cut the Illinois lead to two points twice early in the second half, but Augustine's jumper started an 8-0 run that put the Illini up 46-38 and the Broncs never got closer than five points again.

Brown added seven rebounds, four assists and four steals for Illinois. Augustine scored 14 points and McBride had 11 as the Illini finished the game shooting just 40 percent and 14of-33 from 3-point range.

GAME 3

#15/14 ILLINOIS 93. TEXAS SOUTHERN 59

NOV. 22, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Illinois appears to have shaken out of its early season funk.

Dee Brown scored 14 points and James Augustine added 13 to lead No. 15 Illinois to a 93-59 rout of Texas Southern.

Illinois had been surprised by Texas-Pan American's zone defense on Sunday and struggled, falling behind by 10 points before pulling out a 71-59 victory. But Tuesday night, there were no surprises.

The Illini were in complete control after the first two minutes of the game. They broke it open with a 19-8 run early in the first half and then buried the Tigers with a 33-6 run to begin the second half. They led by as many as 41 points.

Brown also had six rebounds and five assists. Jamar Smith added 12, while Carter scored 11 and Arnold had 10.

Brian Randle, who struggled in his first two games after sitting out last season with an injury, scored six points. But he also had five assists two blocks and a steal that led to a crowd-pleasing dunk in the first half.

Illinois led 46-30 at halftime and held the Tigers to just eight points over the first 13 minutes of the second half. Smith's 3pointer with seven minutes left made the score 79-38.

This was the second game of the South Padre Island Invitational.

#15/14 ILLINOIS 55, WICHITA STATE 54

NOV. 25, 2005 // SOUTH PAORE ISLAND, TEXAS

Back in his home state, Warren Carter helped Illinois stay there a little longer.

Carter, a junior from Dallas, hit the winning layup with one second left to give No. 15 Illinois a 55-54 win Friday over Wichita State in the South Padre Island Invitational semifinals.

Illinois (4-0) advanced to Saturday's championship against Rutgers, which beat Kent State 55-52 in Friday's other semifinal.

"Warren made a good catch, took his time and made the basket," Illinois coach Bruce Weber said. "Its a great win for Warren."

Carter, who was open near the basket, scored the last of his eight points after receiving an inbound pass from Rich McBride. It was Illinois' second lead of the second half, after James Augustine's jumper with 4:46 left briefly put Illinois ahead 51-50.

"The coaching staff did a good job of drawing up the play," Carter said. "Dee (Brown) came off the screen so of course the team is going to guard him because he is an All-American. I just got open."

Augustine led Illinois with 14 points and Shaun Pruitt added 10. Paul Miller scored 18 points for Wichita State (3-1), which led for most of the second half after trailing by as many as 11 in the first. Miller also had five rebounds, one steal and was 6-for-8 from the free throw line.

Kyle Wilson's layup with 1:24 left gave Wichita State a 54-53 lead before Carter's winning shot.

Wilson had 10 points for the Shockers, who shot just 35 percent from the field in the second half.

GAME 5

#15/14 ILLINOIS 77, RUTGERS 57

NOV. 26, 2005 // SOUTH PAORE ISLAND, TEXAS

James Augustine was quick to praise his teammates after Illinois' latest win.

Augustine scored 18 points and Brian Randle added t6, leading No. 15 Illinois to a 77-57 victory over Rutgers in the championship game of the South Padre Island Invitational.

Augustine, the tournament MVP, was 7-of-9 from the field and had seven rebounds. Rich McBride scored 11 points and Dee Brown added 10 for Illinois.

Shaun Pruitt, who had six points, was the only Illinois starter who didn't score in double figures. Illinois got just 16 points from its bench, but Augustine said reserves still played a key role.

"We're making progress each and every game, and I think that's what counts," Augustine said. "I think the bench did a great job today and carried us the whole time. It means a lot to know that your bench can go out there and do the same thing that you do."

Quincy Douby led Rutgers (3-1) with 21 points, and Anthony Farmer had 12.

Illinois shot 51 percent from the field, including 65 percent in the second half. Rutgers shot 26 percent in the first half and finished at 39 percent.

Illinois, which trailed only once early in the game, led by as many as 23 points after having a 38-26 lead at the break.

GAME 6

#12 ILLINOIS 68, NORTH CAROLINA 64 NOV. 29, 2005 // SMITH CENTER, CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

Revenge? Dee Brown and his Illinois teammates tound all th incentive they needed in simply getting an early seaso victory on the road.

The dazzling guard scored t4 points and Brian Randl grabbed a key rebound in the waning seconds, helping th t2th-ranked Illini hold off North Carolina 68-64 in a rematcl of the 2005 NCAA championship game.

James Augustine added 13 points and 13 rebounds fo Illinois, which improved to 3-4 in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge The Illini also snapped the Tar Heels' 21-game home winning streak despite scoring only four points in the final 6 1/2 minutes.

No one expected a true rematch of the final because only seven remaining players on the two teams even played in that game, won 75-70 by the Tar Heels. Those points came during a 12-0 run to make it 64-62, and after the teams traded baskets, Illinois freshman Jamar Smith missed the front end of a 1-and-1 with 17 seconds left. But Randle beat everyone to the rebound and quickly got the ball to Brown; who made two free throws to finally seal the victory.

Illinois also seemed to rally around injured coach Bruce Weber, who broke his ankle a day earlier working in his yard. He hobbled a bit on the sidelines with a protective boot, and used a crutch to travel from the locker room to the sideline.

He watched his team take the lead for good on Randle's 3-pointer to open the second half, and Illinois stayed in control until suddenly losing its shooting touch. Illinois missed five straight shots and had three turnovers in one 5-minute stretch, losing nearly all of a 14-point lead.

Randle         4-5         2-2         2-4         3         12         1         3         2         2         2           Pruitt         2-2         0-0         0-2         2         4         0         2         0         1         18           Augustine         4-6         0-0         5-6         13         13         3         2         0         3         3           Brown         6-19         0-6         2-3         0         14         3         5         0         2         3         3         3         2         0         3         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         3         3         2         0         1         1         3         1         2         0         1         1         3         1         2         0         0         1         1         1         1         1         2         0

#12 ILLINOIS 65, XAVIER 62

DEC. 3, 2005 // UNITED CENTER, CHICAGO, ILL.

Dee Brown and James Augustine carried the scoring load and Marcus Arnold's inspired play off the bench late in the second half helped the No. 12 Illini rally from an early 15-point deficit to defeat Xavier 65-62.

Augustine scored 23 points to tie his career high and Brown had 20, but Arnold scored seven points and grabbed a pair of key rebounds. He tied the game 53-53 and then converted a 3-point play to give the Illini a 56-53 lead with 5:10 to go.

Xavier built a 19-4 lead and fed 36-26 at halftime. But Illinois, which has now won 15 in a row at the United Center, came out of the locker room with a 15-4 run.

Augustine's 3-point play gave Illinois its first lead, 41-40, with 12:31 to go. Xavier scored six straight points and looked like it might take control again, but fouls got the Musketeers into trouble.

Their leading scorer, Brian Thornton, fouled out when he fouled Arnold with 5:10 left and three other players ended the game with four fouls. Thornton, who had been averaging 20 points, finished with nine.

The Musketeers were led by Justin Cage's 15 points. Justin Doellman scored 12 and Stanley Burrell had 11, Xavier shot 60 percent in the first half, but dropped off in the second half to finish with 48 percent.

Illinois had major trouble getting started. The Illini turned the ball over on their first two possessions and missed their first nine shots. Meanwhile, the Musketeers hit five of their first eight to build a 12-0 lead.

#11/10 ILLINDIS 75, ARKANSAS-LITTLE ROCK 49

DEC. 5, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL

Freshman reserve Jamar Smith hit six 3-pointers and had a career-high 23 points to lift No. 11 Illinois to a 75-49 victory over Arkansas-Little Rock.

Smith was 8-of-10 from the field and had three assists and two steals. He scored seven points and had an assist during a 20-0 second-half run that broke the game open.

Illinois (8-0) had just seen Arkansas-Little Rock (3-3) run off seven straight points to cut its deficit to 41-39. After Dee Brown hit a free throw and Brian Randle a layup, Smith got a pass from Brown and hit a three that brought the crowd to its feet.

The next time down the floor, Smith sent an alley-oop pass that Randle dunked to put the Illini up 49-39. He scored five more points before leaving to a standing ovation with 1:48 left and Illinois on its way to its 25th straight win at the Assembly Hall.

James Augustine scored 12 points for Illinois. Randle and Warren Carter each added 11 points, and Brown had six points, 10 assists and five rebounds.

Lekheythan Malone scored 12 of his 17 points in the first half for Arkansas-Little Rock, but he spent much of the second half on the bench in foul trouble. Elijah Muldrow added 10 points for the Trojans.

The Illini used a 10-0 run to take a 14-6 lead and led 20-12 after Randle put in a rebound with 7:48 to go in the first half. But the Trojans came back with a 9-3 run and closed within 27-26 with 2:22 to go on Muldrow's 3-pointer.

GAME 9

#11/10 ILLINOIS 58, GEORGETOWN 48

DEC. 8, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Dee Brown scored 16 points and Illinois' defense made up for a poor shooting night as the 11th-ranked Illini won their ninth straight to open the season, 58-48 over Georgetown.

Brown made two layups midway through the second half that boosted Illinois' lead to 14 points and stalled Georgetown's comeback attempt. The Hoyas (3-2), who were down 15 points at halftime, rallied behind Jeff Green, who scored 19 of his 21 points in the second half.

But Georgetown ran out of time. After closing to 52-44 on Ashanti Cook's 3-pointer with 1:10 to go, the Hoyas missed three straight shots, were forced to foul and the Illini converted all six free throws before Green scored four points in the final seconds.

James Augustine got his fourth double-double of the season for Illinois with 10 points and 13 rebounds. Cook scored 10 points for the Hoyas.

Illinois was only 9-of-25 from the field in the second half and finished the game shooting a paltry 32 percent. They were helped by nine 3-pointers.

Illinois scored the first 10 points of the game and then held the Hoyas to five first-half baskets.

Illini coach Bruce Weber, still hobbled by a broken left ankle, was waving his arms early exhorting his players and applauding their defensive play as Georgetown missed its first six shots and eight of its first 10 on their way shooting 38 percent.

The Hoyas closed within 12-7 with 10:59 to go in the half but the Illini tightened up their defense again and forced Georgetown to miss nine straight shots and turn the ball over four times over the next 9:02. Illinois took a 25-11 lead and was up 28-13 at halftime.

GAME 10

#11/10 ILLINOIS 89, OREGON 59

DEC. 10, 2005 // ROSE GAROEN, PORTLAND, ORE.

Playing its 10th game in 23 days, Illinois coach Bruce Weber didn't know exactly what to expect from his team.

However, the 11th-ranked Fighting Illini showed no signs of fatigue as Dee Brown had 26 points and seven assists in an 89-59 win over Oregon. Brown hit 9 of 15 shots, including five 3s in his best performance of the season.

Rich McBride had 13 points and James Augustine added eight points and 11 rebounds for the Illini, who improved to Reserve forward Ivan Johnson tied a career-high with 16 points to lead the Ducks (4-3). Malik Hairston added 12 for Oregon, which shot just 35 percent from the field, including 26 percent in the first half.

The Ducks struggled against an Illinois defense that forced 13 turnovers and shut off the middle early. The Illini were up 12-6 in the first half when a flurry of 3s quickly doubled their lead. Brown hit two 3-pointers and Rich McBride had added two more as Illinois went up 24-11.

As the Illini began to sprint away, the Ducks hurt their cause by forcing up bad shots. Oregon missed all seven of its firsthalf 3-pointers, while Brown knocked down two more 3s to make it 34-18.

The strong shooting continued into the second half for Illinois with Brown directing the offense with pinpoint efficiency.

GAME 11

#9/8 ILLINOIS 61, COPPIN STATE 42

DEC. 18, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Illinois' Bruce Weber wasn't as happy as the coach of an 11-O team might be expected to be.

The ninth-ranked Illini's sluggish offense in a 61-42 victory over Coppin State could have had something to do with it.

James Augustine had 15 points and nine rebounds to lead Illinois, which broke the game open with an 18-4 run after Coppin State (0-8) had cut a 14-point deficit in half.

Augustine's three-point play started the run after the Eagles had closed within 29-22 with 15:17 to go. He had a layup and another three-point play as the Illini pushed their lead to 50-28 with 7:25 left.

Illinois led 24-7 after Brown hit a 3-pointer with 5:41 to go in the first half, but the Illini failed to score for the rest of the half and the Eagles put together a 12-5 run that lasted 4:43 into the second half.

But Augustine got free for a fast-break layup with 15:12 left and converted a free throw to start the decisive run, which also included 3-pointers from Rich McBride and Calvin Brock and a basket from Jamar Smith.

Smith scored 10 points and McBride had nine for the Illini. while Dee Brown had eight points and seven assists.

Darryl Procfor scored 14 points and Tywain McKee added 13 for Coppin State.

#6 ILLINOIS 84, TENNESSEE-MARTIN 46 DEC. 30, 2005 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Rebound by rebound, the Illinois fans counted along silently. When James Augustine grabbed his 11th, the applause rippled from the top of the Assembly Hall.

Augustine's grab of a missed layup with 10:51 to play in the sixth-ranked Illini's 84-46 rout of Tennessee-Martin was the 854th of his career, passing Efrem Winters who played from 1983-86

Augustine scored 19 points and Rich McBride added 21, all on 3-pointers, to lead Illinois.

Augustine was just as effective from the field as he was on the glass. He hit eight of nine shots, made three free throws and added two assists and a steal.

The double-double was Augustine's fourth of the season and 21st of his career.

Tennessee-Martin was outclassed from the opening tip. McBride hit his first 3 just 33 seconds into the game and Illinois was up 17-0 before Bubba Tolliver finally put the Skyhawks in the scorebook with a free throw with 14:45 left in the half.

Augustine had a dunk and layup to start another 10-0 run. Tennessee-Martin trailed 47-15 at halftime after going 4-of-22 from the field.

Tennessee-Martin didn't make its first field goal until Justin Flatt hit a 3-pointer with 9:14 to go in the half.

McBride was 7-of-10 from 3-point range, a career high, as Illinois won its 29th straight at home.

GAME 15

#6 ILLINOIS 60, #7 MICHIGAN STATE 50 JAN 5 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL CHAMPAIGN ILL.

Dee Brown scored a career-high 34 points and the sixthranked Illini remained unbeaten with a 60-50 victory over the seventh-ranked Spartans to run their home winning streak to 30 games in the Big Ten opener for both teams.

Brown was 12-of-22 from the field, including 7-of-13 from 3-point range, for the Illini and had 23 points in the first half. He hit a 30-foot bailout as the shot clock wound down and a buzzer beater at halftime.

"I think it was one of the most incredible performances I've seen," Izzo said.

Michigan State had its 11-game winning streak snapped as the Illini held the Spartans nearly 33 points below their average. Maurice Ager, the Big Ten's leading scorer, finished with nine points, 13 below his average.

Shannon Brown had 17 points for Michigan State, which was held to its lowest point total since falling 72-50 to Duke on Dec. 3, 2003. The Spartans have lost four straight to Illinois.

The Spartans never could get their fast break going. Brian Randle corralled Ager and Dee Brown and Rich McBride consistently beat Shannon Brown down the floor on defense.

Once the game began it was a typical Big Ten battle with both coaches screaming at the officials. Weber drew a technical foul with 2:29 left in the first half after his complaint to J.O. Collins was heard by most in the building during a free throw attempt by Augustine.

In a physical battle between two of the Big Ten's best defensive teams, lowa held Illinois to 34.6 percent shooting and became the first team to keep the Illini under 50 points since Michigan State did it Feb. 11, 1999.

Dee Brown scored just six points on 2-of-13 shooting - one game after he scored a career-high 34 in a victory over No. 7 Michigan State.

The win also helped lowa snap a four-game losing streak against Illinois, and fans savored the moment by rushing the court to celebrate with the team after time expired.

James Augustine led Illinois with 14 points and nine rebounds, but was in foul trouble for much of the game.

The Illini committed 16 turnovers, trailed the entire second half and shot 19 percent from 3-point range.

lowa shot 35 percent but the difference was at the free-throw line, where the Hawkeyes went 24-of-32, compared to 7-of-15 for Illinois.

The Hawkeyes led 23-19 at the half and grabbed its first double-digit lead when Haluska swished a 3-pointer to put lowa up 38-28.

The Illini cut it to six 3 minutes later when Chester Frazier scored on a one-hander in the paint and Jamar Smith's 3-pointer on the next possession brought Illinois to 41-38. But the Illini would get no closer.

#7/6 ILLINOIS 79, MICHIGAN 74

JAN. 14, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Dee Brown scored 26 points and James Augustine added 23 and No. 7 Illinois withstood a second-half charge from Michigan to beat the Wolverines for the 11th straight time, 79-74.

The win was Illinois' 31st in a row at the Assembly Hall, tying the school record set between Jan. 15, 1984 and Jan. 4, 1986.

After Michigan's 10-0 run gave it a 70-69 lead on Dion Harris' two free throws with 4:01 left, Augustine put the Illini back into the lead with two free throws. His layup 56 seconds later gave the Illini a 73-70 lead and they outscored the Wolverines 6-4 down the stretch.

Brown hit four straight 3-pointers that built a 53-51 Illinois lead to 69-60 before Daniel Horton scored eight straight points to bring the Wolverines within one before Harris' free throws gave them their short-lived lead.

Michigan started chipping away and cut its deficit to 50-45 on Lester Abram's 3-pointer with 12:59 left. Then Brent Petway scored six straight points that cut the Illinois lead to 53-51.

Brown answered with the first of four straight 3-pointers and the Illini scored 16 of the next 24 points to take the 69-60 lead.

The Illini came out sluggish on offense again and watched the Wolverines take their four-point lead after Sims backed Pruitt into the lane and got a three-point play with 10:40 to go in the first half.

But Augustine's dunk and a 3-pointer by Rich McBride with 8:55 to go ignited the 22-6 run. Then Brian Randle slammed in a rebound of a miss by Brown to give Illinois the 11-point halftime lead.

#7/5 ILLINOIS 60, #13/11 INDIANA 62 JAN. 17, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, BLOOMINGTON, IND.

Marco Killingsworth scored 20 of his 23 points in the second halt to help No. 13 Indiana beat No. 7 Illinois 62-60 at Bloomington.

Indiana won for the seventh time in eight games and became only the fourth team to beat the Fighting Illini in the regular-season since Jan. 24, 2004. The victory set off a wild celebration as Indiana extended its home winning streak to 11 against Big Ten teams.

Illinois was led by Shaun Pruitt's career-high 17 points, but lost for the second time in three games. Brian Randle added 15 points, but leading scorer Dee Brown, who averaged 15.6 points, had just five.

Roderick Wilmont tied his season high with 17 points for the Hoosiers. Illinois jumped to a 14-3 lead.

Wilmont sparked an 18-0 run as Indiana held Illinois scoreless for nearly 6 1/2 minutes late in the first half. The spurt ended when he scored the final four points to make it 27-19.

The Illini closed to 28-24 at the half when Brown connected on a 3-pointer before the buzzer -- his only basket of the night.

Indiana used a 15-6 run in the second half to make it 55-40 with 8:23 to go.

The Illini rallied with 12 straight points to close to 55-52 when Randle completed a three-point play with 4:52 left. Brown missed a 3-pointer with 4.5 seconds left that would have tied the game. Jamar Smith tipped in the miss to make it 61-60.

Robert Vaden then made one of two free throws with 3.6 seconds left, and Rich McBride's half-court heave at the buzzer was off the mark as fans raced onto the court.

#8/7 ILLINOIS 77. MINNESOTA 53

JAN. 25, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Dee Brown scored 17 points and freshman Jamar Smith had 16 as No. 8 Illinois extended its home winning streak to a school-record 32 games with a 77-53 victory over Minnesota.

With Brown and Smith hitting from the outside, James Augustine, Shaun Pruitt and Brian Randle were able to get open shots inside and combined for 30 points.

Illinois defeated the Golden Gophers for the 14th straight

Maurice Hargrow and Vincent Grier each had 14 points for Minnesota, while J'son Stamper added 10.

The Gophers had no answer for Illinois' inside-outside game in the second half.

Augustine scored 13 points, Randle added 10 despite sitting for most of the tirst half in toul trouble and Pruitt had seven. The strategy got the Golden Gophers into foul trouble early in the second half and a 15-2 run gave the Illini a 68-48 lead with 5:22 to go.

Brown went inside for three layups and a jumper, while going 3-of-6 from long range. Smith scored 15 points on 3-pointers and added a free throw.

Minnesota kept the game close for most of the first half, but Marcus Arnold's layup finished off a 13-5 run that pushed the Illini's lead to 39-29 with 51 seconds left. The Gophers closed to 41-37 on two free throws by Stamper, but Brown's 3pointer started an 8-1 run and Minnesota never got closer than six points again.

GAME 21

#8/7 ILLINOIS 76. PURDUE 58

JAN. 28, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Purdue coach Matt Painter knew his team would have to make Illinois play a halfcourt game if the Boilermakers were to have a chance to upset the Illini.

The Illini responded with perhaps their quickest game of the season and spent much of the day getting transition baskets on the way to a 76-58 victory, extending their school-record winning streak at the Assembly Hall to 33 games.

Purdue scored the first seven points of the game and was up 12-4 with 14:02 to go in the first half when coach Bruce Weber gave his players a loud wakeup call.

Purdue's Marcus Green was fouled on a 3-point try and hit all three tree throws to put the Boilermakers up 15-6. But the Illini got Weber's message.

The early nine-point deficit became a 29-20 lead when Augustine swiped the ball from Marcus White at midcourt and raced in for a dunk with 4:38 left in the half.

Along the way, Brown grabbed a long rebound off Chris Lutz's missed 3-pointer and flew down the lane for a layup that turned into a three-point play. A few seconds later he made another layup to close Illinois' deficit to 15-14.

He scooped a loose ball back from out of bounds to McBride who hit a 3-pointer that gave the Illini their first lead, 18-15. And his racing layup with 6 seconds left in the half put the Illini ahead 35-27.

The Illini went on a 17-3 run early in the second half that gave them a 56-37 lead with 13 minutes left.

#6 ILLINOIS 66, WISCONSIN 51

JAN. 31, 2006 // KOHL CENTER, MADISON, WIS

For every other Big Ten team, Wisconsin's Kohl Center isn't the place to go for a little peace and quiet. But for the second year in a row, Illinois was able to enjoy the silence.

Dee Brown and Rich McBride scored 16 points apiece and the sixth-ranked Illini beat the Badgers 66-51, picking up their fourth straight victory over the Badgers and second straight at the Kohl Center.

Illinois remains the only Big Ten team to beat the Badgers at home in five seasons under coach Bo Ryan.  $\label{eq:Bodgers} % \begin{subarray}{ll} \end{subarray} % \begin{subarray}{l$

Brown had 12 in the second half and forward Brian Randle had a double-double with 12 points and 13 rebounds.

Illinois' leading scorers, Brown and James Augustine, struggled to score in the first half, but Illinois got contributions from its up-and-coming role players to turn an 11-point first-half deficit into a six-point halftime lead.

Illinois began the game shooting 7-for-22 and trailed 24-13 after Tucker's drive and layup with 9:25 remaining in the half.

But the Illini took a 26-24 lead on Augustine's fast-break slam dunk off a Brown lob pass and extended the lead to 32-24 on McBride's 3-pointer with 1:17 to play. The Illini had four steals during their 19-0 run.

The Badgers rallied in the second halt, but it wasn't enough. The Illini responded with Augustine's layup, and Jamar Smith's 3-pointer off a McBride steal gave the Illini a 49-42 lead with 8:50 to play.

A McBride 3-pointer extended the Illinois lead to 55-43, causing the Badgers to call a timeout with 7:12 remaining.

GAME 23

#6 ILLINOIS 65. PENN STATE 66

FEB. 4, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Rich McBride's 3-pointer came a split-second too late and Penn State rallied from a 16-point second-half deficit to upset No. 6 Illinois 66-65, ending the Fighting Illini's home winning streak at 33 games.

Travis Parker's basket with 8.5 seconds left gave Penn State its first lead and handed the Illini their first loss at home since Jan. 10, 2004. Parker rebounded Mike Walker's missed 3-pointer and swished a jumper that finished the Nittany Lions' comeback.

Parker scored 21 points and Geary Claxton added 20 to lead Penn State, which snapped a four-game losing streak.

McBride's shot went up as the horn sounded and officials spent several moments reviewing video replays to determine whether he got it off in time. When referee Gene Crawford waived off the basket, the arena fell into a stunned silence.

McBride scored 17 points for the Illini, who led 13-0 early and 39-25 at halftime. James Augustine's layup gave Illinois its biggest lead, 43-27, with 18:43 to go.

Illinois appeared ready to coast to a win after Augustine's basket. But rather than demoralize the Nittany Lions, it seemed to invigorate them.

Parker and Ben Luber hit 3-pointers and Claxton scored twice from underneath to close the gap to 47-37 with 14:38 to go. Penn State outscored the Illini 29-18 the rest of the way.

Augustine had 13 points for Illinois, Dee Brown added 11 and Shaun Pruitt scored 10.

#10/9 ILLINOIS 53, #19/17 OHIO STATE 69

FEB. 12, 2006 // VALUE CITY ARENA, COLUMBUS, OHIO

Jamar Butler scored 22 points, Terence Dials had 19 and 15 rebounds and Je'Kel Foster 18 points to lead No. 19 Dhio State to a 69-53 victory over No. 10 Illinois.

The Buckeyes relied on their outside marksmanship and Dials inside to win their fourth game in a row and remain in a virtual tie for first place in the Big Ten.

The Buckeyes (18-3, 7-3) hit 13-of-23 3-pointers three days after making 15-of-24 in a victory at No. 22 Michigan. It was the first time in five years Dhio State had beaten two ranked opponents in the same week.

Dee Brown scored 12 points to lead Illinois (20-4, 6-4), James Augustine added 11 points - all in the first half - and 13 rebounds.

In a matchup of the Big Ten's top offensive (Ohio State) and defensive (Illinois) teams, the Buckeyes excelled at both ends. The Illini shot only 37 percent from the field and were outrebounded 36-32.

After building an 11-point advantage at the half, Ohio State pushed the lead to 53-32 after Ron Lewis' 3 at the 13:40 mark, making the Buckeyes 12-of-17 on 3s. But Illinois began to make headway with freshman Chester Frazier dogging Foster and frustrating him with his physical play.

Frazier hit two foul shots with 9:46 left to cap a 12-0 run - Brown scored five points, Frazier four and Rich McBride three - that cut the lead to 53-44.

Ohio State responded with a 10-0 run that ended with Foster hitting a fallaway 3 from the right corner for a 16-point lead with 7 1/2 minutes left.

#14/13 ILLINOIS 63. NORTHWESTERN 47

FEB. 15, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

Northwestern had battled back from an early 12-point deficit to tie No. 14 Illinois with 16:53 to play. It was time for Dee Brown to go to work.

After making just one of his four shots in the first half, Brown went on a seven-point scoring spree. He drained a long 3pointer and, on the next trip down the court, was touled while making another and converted the free throw for a four-point play.

Brown's spurt gave the Illini a 36-29 lead and sent them on to a 63-47 victory Wednesday night.

Even after Brown's rally, Northwestern (12-11, 4-7) mounted a final push with a 12-2 run that trimmed a 13-point lead to three. But Illinois answered with 14 straight points to put the game away.

Northwestern played without top scorer Vedran Vukusic (20.2) ppg), who sat out due to back pain.

Rich McBride led Illinois with 17 points, including going 4-of-8 from 3-point range. Brian Randle added 10 points, including a thunderous putback dunk of a miss by Brown that brought the Assembly Hall crowd to its feet and gave Illinois a 55-45 lead with 4:29 to go.

Then Warren Carter hit two free throws, James Augustine had a breakaway dunk and McBride hit his fourth 3-pointer to put the Illini up 62-45.

#14/13 ILLINOIS 70. INDIANA 58

FEB. 19, 2006 // ASSEMBLY HALL, CHAMPAIGN, ILL.

James Augustine scored 18 points and grabbed 10 rebounds to lead No. 14 Illinois to a 70-58 win over Indiana in Mike Davis' first game since announcing he would resign as the Hoosiers' coach after the season.

Augustine was 7-of-11 from the field and 4-for-4 from the tree throw line. He had four dunks on his way to his ninth double-double of the season.

Indiana cut Illinois' 13-point halftime lead to 41-31 with 16:45 to go, but the Illini responded with a 7-0 run capped by Augustine's dunk off a bounce pass from Dee Brown in the lane. He converted a three-point play to make it 48-31.

Augustine went to the bench with his fourth foul with 7:38 to play. The Hoosiers closed to within 11 on Roderick Wilmont's jumper with 4:07 to go but Warren Carter answered and the Illini were able to control the clock the rest of the way.

Brian Randle scored 12 points for Illinois, including a driving first-half dunk that brought the orange-clad Assembly Hall crowd to its feet. Dee Brown scored 10 points and dished our four assists and Carter had nine points off the bench.

After four early lead changes, the Illini took control in the tirst half with a 22-4 run that turned a 6-5 deficit into a 27-10 lead. Augustine hit a 15-foot jumper and Rich McBride's 3pointer started things off and Warren Carter's layup ended a 9-0 spurt.

While Illinois made 9-of-16 shots, the Hoosiers missed 9-of-11 and committed six turnovers during the Illini run.

#8 ILLINOIS 64. MICHIGAN 72

FEB. 21, 2006 // CRISLER ARENA, ANN ARBOR, MICH.

Daniel Horton scored 23 of his career-high 39 points in the second half, rallying Michigan to a 72-64 victory over No. 8

Courtney Sims added 13 points for the Wolverines (18-7, 8-6 Big Ten), the only team to top 70 points against Illinois this season. Last month, Michigan lost 79-74 against the Fighting Illini at Champaign.

The Wolverines snapped an 11-game losing streak against Illinois, dating back to Jan. 2000.

James Augustine scored 23 points and Dee Brown added 20 for the Illini (22-5, 8-5) who had a two-game winning streak snapped.

After trailing 34-30 at halftime, Michigan started the second half by hitting five straight 3-pointers, including three by Horton, to take the lead.

The Illini twice tied the game, the last at 57-all with 5:46 remaining. The Wolverines then held a 64-60 lead with 64 seconds left.

Augustine pulled Illinois with 66-64 on two free throws with 45.7 seconds to play. However, Horton sealed the win by hitting six free throws in the final 43 seconds.

Both teams played a sloppy first half. Illinois led most of the half, giving up the lead only once and forcing 11 Michigan turnovers. Horton kept the game from turning into an Illini blowout at the start by scoring the Wolverines first 9 points.

#9 ILLINOIS 56, MICHIGAN STATE 61

MARCH 10, 2006 // CONSECO FIELDHOUSE, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

Michigan State seniors Paul Davis and Maurice Ager took matters into their own hands against No. 9 Illinois. Davis and Ager each scored 16 points and Davis added eight rebounds to help the Spartans beat the Illini 61-56 Friday night in the Big Ten tournament quarterfinals.

Sixth-seeded Michigan State (22-10) had lost three of four entering the tournament, including last Saturday's 75-68 lass to Illinois in its home finale.

This time, in front of a decidedly partisan Illinois crowd, the Illini (25-6) couldn't duplicate their effort from last Saturday. James Augustine had 16 points and 15 rebounds, but the Illini failed to reach the semis for the first time in the nine-year history of the tournament.

The Spartans overcame a bad start, withstood a late Illinois charge and didn't trail in the final 37 minutes. They held Illini guard Dee Brown to just five points. Brown didn't make a basket until 2:08 mark of the first half.

Michigan State extended its lead to 41-31 before Illinois rallied with a 12-3 run. That got them within 44-43, but Davis responded with a three-point play, and Michigan State scored seven straight points to rebuild its lead.

The Illini again closed within one when Rich McBride closed out a 7-0 spurt by making two free throws with 2:01 left. But the Spartans answered with a 10-foot runner from Shannon Brown and four straight free throws to seal it. Brown finished with 14 points.

#13/14 ILLINOIS 78, AIR FORCE 69

MARCH 16, 2006, COX ARENA, SAN DIEGO, CALIF.

Illinois was just too big and too talented for Air Fore, finally overpowering the Falcons and winning 78-69 in an NCAA Tournament first-round game.

Guard Jamar Smith had six 3-pointers among his 20 points for the fourth-seeded Fighting Illini, who were playing in their first NCAA Tournament game since falling to North Carolina in last year's championship.

Dee Brown was held to eight points, but he made up tor it with 10 assists and a career-high eight rebounds.

Air Force tried to hang with the Illini, and succeeded at times. The Falcons' Princeton offense was more efficient in the second half than in the first, and they scored seven straight points, including four by guard Antoine Hood, to pull to 39-38 with 16:18 to play.

Illinois answered with a 3-pointer by Smith and a three-point play by Brian Randle to make it 45-38. Smith hit four 3-pointers in the final 14 minutes, and James Augustine, Warren Carter and Randle dominated inside.

A play by Randle with two minutes left seemed to sum up the talent gap. He stole the ball from Dan Nwaelele and went in for an emphatic slam dunk for a 76-62 lead.

Air Force scored ten scored nine points in the final 11 seconds to make the tinal margin a nine-point Illini victory.

The Falcons led twice early in the first half, including 11-9 after a 3-point basket by Burtschi 11:55 before halftime.

But the Falcons couldn't control the tempo. Augustine scored six points and Carter had four during a 12-0 run that give Illinois a 21-11 lead, forcing the Falcons to take a timeout.

GAME 33

#13/14 ILLINOIS 64, #17 WASHINGTON 67

MARCH 18, 2006 // COX ARENA, SAN DIEGD, CALIF.

Brandon Roy helped bring Washington back from an 11-point deficit in the second half as the Huskies beat Illinois 67-64 in a second-round NCAA tournament game that featured wild scoring swings.

Roy scored 21 points and grabbed seven rebounds in the victory, while Dee Brown and the fourth-seeded Fighting Illini came up short of making a third-straight trip to the regionals.

The Huskies won despite shooting 38 percent from the floor. They made up for it by making 28 of 39 free throws. Roy was 11-of-14 from the line. Illinois was called for 28 fouls and the Huskies 17.

Roy scored five points during an 18-7 run that brought the Huskies back from a 53-42 deficit with 12 1/2 minutes to play. Roy made a layup to tie the game at 60 with 3:27 left, setting up a thrilling finish.

Jones made three free throws in the final 15.5 seconds to give the Huskies a 67-64 lead. He hit one of two with 12.8 seconds left, and Illinois rebounded his miss to set up a final shot. After a timeout, Brown got the ball and missed a 3 at the buzzer.

James Augustine led Illinois with 19, Brown had 15 and Rich McBride 13.

Illinois had an unfathomable start, when it missed 21 of its first 25 shots and fell behind 28-14.

Then in the span of 3 minutes, 39 seconds, the Illini went from almost desperate to ecstatic. Augustine got hot and the Illini outscored Washington 19-7 to close the first half. Brown swished a 3-pointer at the buzzer to pull the Illini to 35-33, then celebrated by chest-bumping with Brian Randle in front of the bench.

The Illini extended the run to 31-9, scoring 12 of the first 14 points of the second half to go up 45-37.

HEAD COACH ELWOOD BROWN

(1 YEAR, 6-8, .429)

Leg Hana was put in charge of building the basketball program at Illingis after a women's program had existed for years. A team, led by its playing captain Roy Riley, beat Champaign High School Jan. 6, two weeks before Hana was able to replace Riley with a "professional" coach. Elwood Brown became Illingis' first haskethall coach lan 20, 1906 and proceeded to turn in a commendable coaching job, especially since the squad lost two of its mainstays during the season. "The results of the season were on the whole satisfactory. In the future, there will not be such a lack of material as hampered the coach (Brown) this season, wrote the 1907 Illio.

HEAD COACH F.L. PINCKNEY

(1 YEAR, 1-10, .091)

Pinckney took over the coaching reins for a year in 1907. There was promise for a good season after the solid start the program had made in 1906. More than 100 men tried out for the team. Pinckney found at least three freshmen he thought would help the team and placed them on the varsity squad. However, the Western Conference Committee declared the three ineligible, leaving Pinckney with a much depleted team and Illinois with its worst record ever. The decision to make the freshmen ineligible gave Pinckney the same problem Brown faced the year before - turning out a winning team with limited talent

HEAD COACH FLETCHER LANE

(1 YEAR, 20-6, .769)

Fletcher Lane's was Illinois' third coach, but lasted just one season. His 20-6 team of 1908 benefited from a long Southern trip in which the team beat several YMCA and club teams from Tennessee, Texas, Alabama, and Georgia, The club was billed as a closely-knit group, due in part to the long trip. The players, however, did not appear to appreciate Lane's coaching style, M.G. Dadant, the 1908 captain wrote. "Handicapped as they were by the lack of any competent coaching, the players went through the season in pertect harmony, each one relinquishing any personal teelings that the team might be better as a whole."

Thompson also had a twoyear career as head basketball coach at Illinois, compiling a 14-14 record, Thompson claimed, at the time, to be the only player in Western Conference history to have played five years of collegiate basketball. He was at Northwestern for one year before playing at Illinois for four additional seasons. In addition to his duties as basketball coach at Illinois in 1911-12, he also served as Athletic Director George Huff's only assistant in the athletic department, doubling as the school's general manager of athletics and as ticket manager. After leaving the university, he founded The Thomas Thompson Company in Highland Park, III., a manufacturer of enamel products.

Ralph Jones' 1916-17 squad won the second men's basketball Big Ten Championship in school history with a 10-2 conference mark.

HEAD COACH RALPH JONES

(8 YEARS, 85-34, .714)

from 1930-33, where, among other achievements, he was credited with the revival of the T-formation and the use of a man in motion to throw off the defense

HEAD COACH FRANK WINTERS

(2 YEARS, 25-12, .676)

While in his two-year stint as coach of the Illinois basketball team Frank Winters was faced with having only a handful of veteran players available and was forced into installing an entirely new system of play. His 25-12 record in two years was a testament to the way Winters made negatives into positives. Upon arriving as head coach in the fall of 1920, he inherited a team whose best player, Chuck Carney, had just severely injured his knee in the last football game. Nonetheless, the team went on to an 11-7 record and improved to 14-5 in the 1922 campaign.

HEAD COACH J. CRAIG RUBY

(14 YEARS, 148-95, .609)

J. Craig Ruby was known as one of the great basketball tacticians of his time. He and legendary Kansas coach Phog Allen actively campaigned together for higher baskets to offset the advantage of tall centers. Ruby alone advocated the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling, and wanted the hoop enlarged to 20 inches in diameter rather than the standard 18, Ruby's second season at Illinois produced a tie for the Big Ten Championship in 1924, but it was not until 1935 that he could lead his team to tie for top conference honors again.

HEAD COACH DOUG MILLS

(11 YEARS, 151-66, .696)

Doug Mills was not only an extremely successful basketball coach at Illinois, but one of the University's most prolific and long-standing administrators. He began his association with Fighting Illini athletics as a standout in both football and basketball in the late 1920s. Mills became the first Illinois head basketball coach to lead his squad to three Big Ten crowns. Also included in his 11-year coaching tenure was the formation of the legendary "Whiz Kids" team of 1942 and '43. That team won back-to-back Big Ten crowns. After retiring from the coaching ranks in 1947, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966

HEAD COACH HARRY COMBES

(20 YEARS, 316-150, .678)

Harry Combes only had to move across town after accepting the job as head coach at Illinois. Prior to joining the Illini, he had been head coach at Champaign High School where he posted an astounding 254-46 record, including winning the state title in 1946. Once at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles in his first five seasons ('49, '51 and '52). It was also Combes who led the Fighting Illini to three third-place finishes in the NCAA Tournament in the four-year period from 1949-52. The squad won 79 of the 100 games during those four years. Illinois' 1952 Final Four appearance was the first officially recognized Final Four. Until Lou Henson broke the record in 1990, Combes' 316 wins were the most wins ever by an Illinois head basketball coach.

HEAD COACH HARV SCHMIDT

Hary Schmidt, a former all-time great player at Illinois, returned to his alma mater in 1968 after serving as an assistant at New Mexico for three years. Within three years of his arrival, he had brought Illinois back to among the elite programs in the Big Ten. The beginning of his tenure marked what possibly was the high-water mark in fan enthusiasm. Illinois led the nation in attendance in 1970, averaging 16,128 per home contest, as students routinely camped out for tickets outside the newly opened, state-of-the-art Assembly Hall.

HEAD COACH GENE BARTOW

(1 YEAR, 8-18, .308)

Brought to Illinois to continue the magical rebuilding jobs he had undertaken at Valparaiso and Memphis State, Gene Bartow was counted on by Athletic Director Cecil Coleman to restore the successful level of play fans had become accustomed to in the past few decades. However, Bartow's stay in Champaign was short-lived, lasting only one year and producing an 8-18 record. The lure away from Illinois was a strong one for Bartow; he was hired away by UCLA to replace legendary Bruin coach John Wooden.

HEAD COACH LOU HENSON

(21 YEARS, 423-224, .654)

Lou Henson, the all-time winningest coach in Illinois basketball history, came to Champaign-Urbana successful head coaching stints at Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico State Universities. He finished his Illinois career No. 12 on the NCAA all-time victory list with 663 wins. Illinois became a national power under Henson, being selected to the NCAA tournament 11 times. The highlight of the postseason competition came in 1989 when the spectacular Flying Illini team won 31 contests and advanced to the Final Four. Henson's Illini were also seeded among the top four in their regional for six consecutive years (1984-89) for the second-longest such streak (next to North Carolina) ever. Over the course of 101 years, the University of Illinois has enjoyed the creation of a stellar basketball tradition that includes Final Four appearances, All-Americans, Academic All-Americans, NBA first-round draft selections, and a place among the nation's elite basketball programs year-in and year-out. The University of Illinois basketball tradition got its start when the Big Ten Conference officially began playing basketball in 1906. At the time the member schools of the of Intercollegiate Conference Representatives or "Western Conference," or as it was originally known were University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University, and the University of Wisconsin.

1906-1909 (34-30)

The first official game in Illinois history was a 71-4 romp over Champaign High School in Urbana on Jan. 12, 1906. The first four years of Illinois hoops saw four different coaches who combined for a 34-30 record. In the first season of Illinois basketball the Illini went 6-8, 3-6 in the Big Ten under head coach Elwood Brown. The following season the Illini's record dropped to 1-10, 0-8 under F.L. Pinckney. A new coach, Fletcher Lane, and a new season arrived in 1907-08 and the Illini posted a 20-8 record and went 6-5 in the conference. Despite a successful season, the Illini underwent its fourth coaching change in as many years and new mentor Herb V. Juul stayed two seasons (1909 and 1910) and was 7-6 his inaugural year and 5-4 the next season.

• Big Ten grows to eight teams with the addition of Iowa in the 1907 season.

1910-1919 (95-48)

The new decade brought the program an extended taste of success. In the 1910s Illinois won two Big Ten titles, in 1915 and 1917, and compiled a 95-48 record including a perfect 16-0 record in 1915. That 1915 season was the third in the eight-year tenure of head coach Ralph Jones and it produced the only unbeaten season in Illini history and the first Big Ten title for the Illinois basketball program. Following the perfect season the Illinois team was named national champions by the Helms Foundation. Jones' 1915 team scored twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by three games over Chicago.

The arrival of the Woods brothers in 1915 had a lot to do with the success of this era. Guard Ray Woods was named first-team All-America all three years he competed (1915-17), and brother Ralf, a forward, led the team in scoring in both 1916 and 1917. His consistency at the free throw line led to the establishment of the Ralf Woods Award, which is still given annually to the Fighting Illini player with the best free-throw percentage.

Illinois followed up its conference championship season with a second-place finish after posting a 13-3 record. The Illini dropped two games to Northwestern and one to eventual champion Wisconsin, but the first loss to the Wildcats was the Illini's first-ever overtime game as Northwestern scored two points in the overtime period to beat Illinois, 23-21, Feb. 12, 1916, at what is now the Kenney Gym Annex.

In 1918, Jones and the Illini picked up their second conference championship crown in three years as Illinois went 13-3 overall and 10-2 in league games. The 1917 team featured a starting guard named George Halas. The professional football pioneer and former Chicago Bear owner and head coach was known on the team for his gritty defense and he was named captain of the 1918 squad before entering the armed forces Jan. 18, 1918.

• Big Ten grows to nine teams with addition of Ohio State in the 1913 season.

 Big Ten grows to 10 teams with addition of Michigan in the 1918 season.

1920-29 (99-68)

Jones led the Illini into the decade of the 1920s and started off this period with a 9-4 record and a third-place finish in the Big Ten in 1920. The following season a new mentor, Frank Winters, was in Champaign-Urbana and his two-year stay produced an 11-7 mark in 1921 and a 14-5 record in 1922.

Illinois Athletic Director George Huff replaced Winters with J. Craig Ruby, whose 14-year tenure at Illinois is the third longest in program history. In his first three seasons, Ruby led the Illini to a 31-18 record and a share of the conference title with Wisconsin in 1924. In 1924, Illinois was 11-6 overall and 8-4 in the Big Ten.

After winning Illinois' third conference title in 1924, Ruby's Illini matched the win mark the following year (11-6, 8-4) but dropped to third place in the standings. The Illini opened the 1926 season on Dec. 12, 1925, against Butler in the newly built Men's Gymnasium, which would later be renamed George Huff Gymnasium after Illinois Athletic Director George Huff. Illinois won its first game at the new gym, 23-22. The remainder of the decade saw Illinois go 10-7 in both 1927 and 1929 taking fourth and fifth in the league standings, and 9-8 in 1926. The only losing season in Ruby's Illinois career came with a 5-12 mark in 1928 and it is one of only 12 losing seasons in the University's 100-year history.

1930-39 (120-61)

In the decade of the 1930s Illinois picked up Big Ten championships number four and five in 1935 and 1937. In 1935 the Illini squad was 5-3 after its first eight games, but rallied in the closing stretch of the season and won its last four contests to grab a share of the conference title.

A new star on the playing floor emerged in the 1935 season with the addition of Harry Combes to the roster. Combes, a three-year letterwinner, starred for the Illini from 1935-37 and later returned to his alma mater as head coach of the Illini in 1948. Combes helped lead Illinois to both its Big Ten titles in the 1930s.

Ruby closed out his coaching tenure in 1935-36 leading Illinois to a 13-6 record, 7-5 in the Big Ten, and third place in the league standings.

The man chosen to teplace Ruby was Douglas Mills. In his 11-year tenure as head coach, Mills established himself as the first coach in Illinois history to win or share three Big Ten championships.

In his first season, 1936-37, Mills' Illini squad captured a share of the Big Ten championship with a 10-2 league record. The Illini were 14-4 overall. Following that season, the men's gymnasium got a new name, George Huff Gymnasium, after former Illinois athletic director George Huff, who passed away on Oct. 1, 1936. During the championship season, future major league baseball Hall of Famer Lou Boudreau led the team in scoring with 8.7 points per game.

1940-49 (150-56)

The decade of the 1940s brought much success to Illinois basketball. Head Coach Doug Mills led the Illini to consecutive Big Ten titles in 1942 and 1943. The Illini would add another league championship under Harry Combes in 1949.

The Illini were the 13th-winningest Division I team in the nation in the 1940s. Illinois' 150-57 record and .725 winning percentage was the best in the Big Ten. In 1941, Mills added to his coaching duties when he was named the school's director of athletics. That same year Art Mathisen arrived in Champaign in what would soon become the creation of the famed "Whiz Kids." In 1942, joining Mathisen were Jack Smiley, Andy Phillip, Gene Vance and Ken Menke, who captured the attention of the entire nation while winning back-to-back conference titles and combining for a 35-6 record, 25-2 in the Big Ten over those two seasons. To this day the "Whiz Kids" remain one of the most storied teams in Illinois history. They dazzled crowds everywhere averaging 58 points per game, while most teams were averaging in the low 40s.

The team was broken up March 1, 1943, when all five starters headed to active duty in the armed forces. All but Mathisen went on to play professionally, and Phillip became a member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

After the departure of the Whiz Kids, Mills faced a major rebuilding job. Mills closed out his time as head coach at Illinois in the 1947 season. That mark coincided with the return of the "Whiz Kids" from military service. A crowd of 7,785, the largest home crowd to that point in Illinois history, jammed into Huff Gym to see their return on Dec. 6, 1946, against Cornell. The Whiz Kids played only the first half of the game in building a 49-13 lead, and the Illini won 87-39. The Illini opened league play with two losses and dug their way back to a second-place finish by winning eight of their last 10 games.

After retiring from coaching, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Former Illini Harry Combes was re-associated with the program when he was selected to replace Mills as head coach of the Fighting Illini. He had previously served as head coach at Champaign High School. In his first nine seasons at Illinois, he won three Big Ten titles and compiled an amazing record of 164-44 overall (.788) and 94-30 in the Big Ten (.758).

Combes first team at Illinois in 1947-48, led by Dike Eddleman and Jack Burmaster, set a Big Ten scoring record with 1,530 points, en route to a 15-5 overall record and 7-5 league finish. His second year as head coach, Combes collected his first of four Big Ten championships as a head coach. He finished his Illinois career with a total of six championships as a player and coach.

The four-year period between 1949-52 brought the University of Illinois three Big Ten championships, three 20-win seasons, and a 42-10 Big Ten mark. The 1949 squad, led by Eddleman, Bill Erickson, and Walter Osterkorn, was Illinois' first 20-game winner since 1908, finishing 21-4. That year, Illinois beat Yale, 71-67, to advance to a national semifinal showdown with Kentucky at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Illini fell to the Wildcats, 76-47, forcing Illinois to defeat Oregon State, 57-53, in Seattle for third place.

 Big Ten drops from 10 to nine teams with the departure of Chicago from the league in 1947.

1950-59 (165-64)

Two of the first three years in this decade saw Illinois bring home Big Ten championships. Illinois won the title in 1951 with a 13-1 league record and produced another 20-win season with a 22-5 record. That season featured a rematch with Kentucky, which had downed the Illini in the national semifinals in 1949. Illinois beat Columbia, 79-71, and North Carolina State, 84-70, to get to the national semifinals and a rematch with the Wildcats. In a heart-breaking loss, Kentucky nipped Illinois, 76-74, on a shot by Wildcat sub Shelby Linville with 12 seconds remaining in the game. The Illini collected third place nationally by beating Oklahoma A&M, 61-46, in Minneapolis.

The 1952 season brought Illinois another Big Ten title and introduced John Kerr, a center from Tilden Tech in Chicago. He began his three-year reign as Illinois' top scorer with a sophomore-record 357 points. The Illini recorded a 22-4 overall mark and went 12-2 in the conference. Once again, Illinois advanced to the national semifinals and ran into underdog St. John's. The Redmen fought their way to a 61-59 victory in the NCAA's first Final Four, in Seattle. Illinois took another third-place award home after beating Santa Clara, 67-64, behind 26 points by Kerr.

The 1954 season was highlighted when Kerr shattered Illinois' single-season scoring record by tallying 556 points in his senior year. Kerr's 1,299 career points in three seasons currently rank 18th on the all-time Illinois scoring list. He held first place in Illini career scoring until Dave Downey passed him in 1963. After his Illinois career came to an end, Kerr started a 12-year professional career and then became the first head coach of the Chicago Bulls in 1966.

Once again the Illini hoopsters led the Big Ten in wins for a decade with a 165-64 record in the 1950s. The Illini's winning percentage, .721, ranked 11th nationally. On Dec. 17, 1956, Illinois defeated San Francisco, 62-33, snapping the Dons' 51-game regular-season win streak. Associated Press began its basketball poll in 1949 with UPI adding its poll in 1951 and from 1951-56 the Illini finished the season ranked in the Top 20 nationally every year. Illinois' highest final ranking in the 1950s was second in both polls in 1952.

• Big Ten grows to 10 teams with addition of Michigan State in the 1951 season.

1960-69 (145-95)

The 1960s produced Big Ten championship No. 11 for Illinois in 1963. That season the Illini were 20-6 overall, 11-3 in the conference. Senior Dave Downey led the team in scoring as he had the previous two seasons and he moved into first on the all-time scoring list. Downey also set the school record for points in a game, which still stands, with 53 in a road loss to Indiana on Feb. 16, 1963.

Illinois was a game back of first place in the league standings with only two games remaining when the Assembly Hall opened its doors on March 4, 1963. Illinois' first game at the Hall was an exciting 79-73 victory over Northwestern before 16,137 fans to stay within a game of first- place Ohio State. After Illinois edged Iowa, 73-69, in the last game of the season, the Fighting Illini would need an overtime loss two hours later by the Buckeyes at Indiana to share the title.

The 1965 season was highlighted by Illinois' season opening 118-83 victory over defending national-champion UCLA at the Assembly Hall. Combes called the game, "one of the best an Illinois team has ever played."

Combes closed out his Illini coaching career in 1967 with a 12-12 record and seventh-place Big Ten finish. The season was highlighted by a 98-97 victory over No. 3 Kentucky in Lexington on Dec. 8.

Another former Illini, Harv Schmidt, replaced Combes and led the team into the 1970s. Schmidt's Illini went 11-13 in 1968 and rebounded to a 19-5 record in 1969 and a second-place Big Ten finish.

1970-79 (129-129)

The decade of the 1970s brought two coaching changes, the second one brought Lou Henson, who would become the longest-tenured coach in Illinois history. In 1970, Illinois set an NCAA attendance record, selling out all 11 home games for an average of 16,128 fans per game.

Although the Illini recorded a losing mark in 1971 (11-12), that season welcomed Nick Weatherspoon from Canton, Ohio. "Spoon" stepped right into the starting lineup and led the team in rebounds. The next two years he led the team in scoring and rebounding before becoming a first-round draft selection and spending eight seasons in the NBA.

Harv Schmidt concluded his Illinois coaching career in 1974 as the Illini's record dropped to 5-18 and last place in the Big Ten standings. The following season, Gene Bartow served as head coach, but left to take the head coaching job in replacing the legendary

John Wooden at UCLA after only one season. After Bartow's departure following the 1975 campaign, the University picked New Mexico State Head Coach Lou Henson to bring success back to the Illinois program. He did just that, taking a team that won 14 games in his inaugural season to a 19-11 record within just four years. The last years of the 1970s signaled the arrival of Eddie Johnson and Mark Smith, two players who would lead the team into the 1980s and pave the way for Illinois' return to national prominence.

In 1979, Illinois finished seventh in the Big Ten, but went 19-11 overall, including ascension to No. 2 in the national polls after starting the year 15-0. That year, Illinois upset top-ranked Michigan State and Magic Johnson, 57-55, in one of the school's most memorable games. That year, Illinois also led the nation in field-goal percentage defense (.404).

1980-89 (233-90)

Henson returned everyone for the 1980 campaign and the team gave the head coach his first of 11, 20-win seasons at Illinois. That year, Illinois made its first postseason appearance since 1963, finishing third in the NIT.

In 1981, Illinois made more strides in its return to the national spotlight with a 21-8 record, a thirdplace Big Ten finish and an invitation to the NCAA Tournament. The team received a first-round bye in the NCAA Tournament and beat Wyoming, 67-65, in Los Angeles to advance to the regionals in Salt Lake City, where Illinois lost to Kansas State, 57-52.

That year, the Fighting Illini led the Big Ten in scoring for the second consecutive season and were again led by Johnson and Smith. Guards Craig Tucker and Derek Harper arrived to add backcourt punch, and Harper began his Illini career being named First-Team Freshman All-America by ESPN and ABC.

The 1982 season brought Illinois another postseason appearance, in the NIT, and an 18-11 record. Harper led the Big Ten in assists and steals.

One of Illinois' best groups arrived on campus in 1983. Guards Bruce Douglas and Doug Altenberger, and forward Scott Meents and Efrem Winters joined sophomores George Montgomery and Anthony Welch to form the nucleus for a team that would win 95 games during the next four seasons.

In 1983, the Fighting Illini became the nation's 25th team to cap the 1,000-win mark with a 72-70 victory over Texas A&M in the Great Alaska Shootout. Later that year, Harper was selected First-Team All-Big Ten, falling one vote shy of being a unanimous pick, before leaving school early for the NBA draft. He was a first round selection of the Dallas Mavericks as the first pick in franchise history.

The 1984 season brought Illinois its 12th Big Ten championship in a season where Illinois had four overtime games including an epic four-overtime 75-66 victory over Michigan. The next game was a twoovertime win at Iowa, Henson's 400th victory as a college head coach. The Illini recorded a 26-5 mark and were 15-3 in Big Ten play, tying Purdue for the league title. The 1984 season also marked Illinois' first back-to-back 20 win seasons since 1951-52. The Illini would go on to record a total of nine consecutive 20-win seasons from 1983-91. Illinois advance to the NCAA Regional Finals before dropping a heart-breaking 54-51 loss to Kentucky on its home court causing the NCAA to put a rule in place not allowing a school to play in a tournament game on its home court.

The Illini started out the 1985 season ranked No. 1 nationally by Basketball Times in its preseason poll. Illinois made a return trip to the NCAA Tournament where the Illini advanced to the Sweet 16.

From 1984-87, Illinois' stingy defense ranked first in the Big Ten allowing only 54.9 points in 1984, 55.7 in 1985, 63.3 in 1986, and 70.2 in 1987. During that same 1984-87 period, Illinois also ranked first in field goal defense, and the Illini were first in threepoint defense in 1987.

Junior college transfer Ken Norman highlighted the 1986 season as he set what was at the time a school record for single-season field-goal percentage (.641). The next season saw the addition of an outstanding group of young players to the roster. Guards Steve Bardo, Kendall Gill and Larry Smith joined forward Nick Anderson in a highly touted recruiting class. This group produced another 20-win season (23-8) and a trip to the NCAA Tournament, where Illinois was beaten 68-67 by Austin Peay in arguably the school's most shocking upset.

The 1988 season brought Henson his 500th career victory and laid the foundation for what would be an incredible history making season in 1989. The 1989 team may arguably have been the most talented team ever assembled at Illinois. The players known as the "Flying Illini," included all the important pieces of 1988 (Kenny Battle, Gill, Bardo, Lowell Hamilton, Anderson and Smith) as well as junior college All-American P.J. Bowman and former high school All-American Marcus Liberty.

The Fighting Illini won their first 16 games and were ranked No. 2 in the nation going into a nationally televised game against Georgia Tech, whom Illinois had already beaten, 80-75, at the Rainbow Classic in December. The Yellow Jackets led, 47-31, but Illinois managed to surge back to force overtime, eventually needing two extra periods to win the game. Along with the No. 1 ranking the next day came some bad news. Illinois' catalyst, Gill, had broken a bone in his foot and would miss the next 12 games. Hurt by the loss of Gill, Illinois lost three of the next four games and its No. 1 ranking. The Illini rallied to finish second in the Big Ten with a 14-4 record and with Gill back in the lineup, the Illini were awarded a No. 1 seed in the Midwest Region of the NCAA Tournament. After rolling to victories over McNeese State and Ball State at the Hoosier Dome, a power-packed regional in Minneapolis with Missouri, Louisville and Syracuse, stood in the way of Illinois' trip to the Final Four.

Louisville fell victim to Illinois, losing 83-69, which set up a regional final matchup with Syracuse. The Fighting Illini held off Syracuse to advance to the Final Four in Seattle where Illinois faced Michigan, a team it had beaten twice already in 1989, in the national semifinals. Despite Battle's 29-point, 11rebound effort, Illinois fell to eventual nationalchampion Michigan, 83-81.

1990-99 (187-120)

Coming off the Final Four season, Illinois went 21-8 overall, 11-7 in the Big Ten in 1990. Gill, a senior, became the first player since Norman in 1987 to average 20 ppg and he was named a First-Team All-American by UP1. Gill led the Big Ten in scoring and was a finalist for the John Wooden Player of the Year Award. He was the fifth overall pick in the NBA draft that summer, going to the Charlotte Hornets.

Entering the 1991 season, Illinois, faced with the loss of Gill, Bardo and Liberty, who declared himself eligible for the NBA draft after his junior season, was picked to finish as low as ninth in the Big Ten by some publications. But, junior forward Andy Kaufmann burst onto the scene scoring 660 points, the second largest single-season total in Illinois history. He and the Illini proved the preseason expectations wrong by going 21-10 and finishing third in the Big Ten.

Illinois' consecutive 20-win season streak was snapped in 1992 when the Illini posted its first losing record in 14 years, going 13-15. After sitting out a season, Kaufmann returned for the 1992-93 campaign and helped lead Illinois to a 19-13 record and trip to the NCAA Tournament. The following season, Illinois again advanced to the NCAA Tournament and in the process, senior Deon Thomas broke a 13-year old record and became the school's all-time leading scorer. Thomas scored his record-breaking 1,693rd point in the championship game of the Illini/Pepsi Classic against American University and he went on to finish his career with 2,129 points.

In 1994 a young upstart freshman, Kiwane Garris, would begin his assault on the all-time scoring list. He notched 446 points as a freshman and would be the catalyst on the Illini team over the next few years.

After advancing to the NCAA Tournament in 1995, Illinois extended its run on postseason play with a berth in the 1996 NIT. In 1996, the Illini started the season 11-1 before losing Garris to injury. Without its leader, the Illini dropped its first five Big Ten games. Garris returned, but was never 100 percent and junior forward Jerry Hester missed games with a severely sprained ankle. The Illini finished the 1996 season 18-13 overall, 7-11 in the Big Ten. But more importantly the 1996 season marked the end of the most successful era in Illinois basketball when Lou Henson announced his retirement before the end of the season. In his 21 years at Illinois, Henson notched 423 victories and guided the Illini to 11 NCAA Tournament appearances. The Okay, Okla. native coached Illinois to 11, 20-win seasons and finished his career as the third-winningest coach in Big Ten history with 214 league victories.

On March 21, 1996, a new era in Illinois basketball began when Director of Athletics Ron Guenther introduced Lon Kruger as the University's 14th men's basketball coach. Kruger came to Illinois from the University of Florida and carried a list of impressive credentials, including guiding Florida to the Final Four in 1994.

In his first year at Illinois, Kruger guided Illinois to a 22-10 record and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Over the course of the season, Illinois defeated five ranked opponents, including No. 7 Minnesota, 96-90, at the Assembly Hall. Illinois also traveled to Bloomington and handed Indiana a 78-74 loss, the first win for Illinois at Assembly Hall in Bloomington since 1990.

During the course of the year, Garris etched his name in the Illinois record book with one of the best season performances by any Illini player in history. He finished his career second on the all-time scoring list with 1,948 points and set the single-season record for free throws made and attempted. Garris averaged 19.4 points and missed being the Big Ten's leading scorer by three one-hundredths of a point.

In 1998, Kruger did the unthinkable as he took a team picked to finish seventh in the Big Ten and guided the Illini to a share of its first Big Ten title since 1984. On the way to the league crown, Illinois went 5-0 against Indiana, Iowa and Michigan, marking the first time in school history the Illini had gone undefeated against those teams during the course of a season.

Illinois advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament after earning a No. 5 seed in the West Regional. The Illini defense was the Big Ten's best as Illinois finished the year first in scoring defense, field-goal defense and three-point defense in league games.

In October 1998, Illinois moved into a state-of-theart basketball practice facility, the Richard T. Ubben Basketball Complex. The facility, which houses the coaches offices and practice gym, also features a weight room, training room, video review room, players' lounge and locker rooms.

The Illini closed out the 1999 season with an amazing run at the Big Ten Tournament title. After entering the tournament as the 11th-seeded team, Illinois reeled off three straight victories over Top 25-ranked teams before losing in the championship game to second-ranked Michigan State. Illini freshman Cory Bradford was the Big Ten's Freshman of the Year and was also selected to the All-Tournament team.

• Big Ten grows to 11 teams with addition of Penn State in the 1990 season.

2000-06 (189-47)

In 2000, for the third time in four seasons, Illinois advanced to the NCAA Tournament, this time as a #4 seed. After defeating Penn in the opening round, the Illini season ended with a defeat to eventual national runner-up Florida. The Fighting Illini spent much of the season ranked in the Top 25, climbing as high as No. 15 in late December. An early threegame losing streak in Big Ten play put the Illini in a hole to start league play at 1-3. But, Illinois went on to win 10 of the last 12 league games before finishing second in the Big Ten Tournament. Cory Bradford earned second-team All-Big Ten honors after leading Illinois in scoring and the Big Ten in three-point field goals. Forward Brian Cook was named Co-Freshman of the Year in the league and earned All-Tournament honors with strong play in the Big Ten Tournament.

In May 2000, Kruger left Illinois to become head coach of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks. Bill Self was named Illinois' 15th head men's basketball coach on June 9, 2000. Self came to Illinois from Tulsa where he had led the Golden Hurricane to consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, including a 32-5 record and tournament run to the regional finals in 2000.

Self's first season at Illinois was memorable. The Illini were ranked in the Top 10 the entire season and tied for the Big Ten Championship with Michigan State before earning a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Illini run ended in the regional final to eventual national runner-up Arizona, the third meeting between the two schools on the season.

Sophomore Frank Williams became the first Illini player to earn Big Ten Player of the Year honors since 1967 and was named to several postseason All-America squads. Junior Cory Bradford set an NCAA record by making a three-point field goal in 88 consecutive games.

In 2002, the Illini earned a four-way share of the Big Ten title before advancing to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Frank Williams again earned first-team All-Big Ten honors as the the five seniors who finished their careers took the Illini from an 11th-place finish in the league in 1999 to consecutive Big Ten titles in 2001 and 2002.

The 2003 squad started three freshmen, a sophomore and one senior, and still finished with a 25-7 record and second-place finish in the Big Ten. Brian Cook earned Big Ten Player of the Year honors and the Illini won the Big Ten Tournament championship for the first time.

Self left in March to take over as coach at Kansas, paving the way for Bruce Weber to be named the 16th Illinois head coach on April 30, 2003. Weber arrived in Champaign after directing the Southern Illinois Salukis for five seasons.

Weber's inaugural season directing the Orange and Blue was a success, as he became just the third coach in Big Ten history to win an outright conference championship in his first season. The Illini had to win its final 10 games of the regular season to clinch sole possession of the title, with six of those wins coming away from the Assembly Hall. Weber also guided Illinois to its first NCAA Tournament victory over a higher seeded team, when the No. 5 Illini defeated No. 4 Cincinnati in the second round of the tournament. The Illini finished the year with a record of 26-7 and advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16.

Illinois celebrated its 100th season of varsity basketball in style in 2004-05. Weber's Illini made the centennial year magical, putting together the finest season in UI history. The Illini tied the all-time NCAA record for victories in a season with 37 wins en route to its 37-2 record. Illinois made its fifth all-time NCAA Final Four appearance and first since 1989. The Illini defeated Louisville in the national semifinal to advance to the NCAA Championship game for the first time in school history. Illinois finished as the national runner-up, falling to North Carolina in the title game.

The Illini started the season by setting a school record with 29 straight wins, the third best start in Big Ten history and tying the 12th best start in NCAA annals. Illinois won its second-ever game over a No. 1-ranked opponent, crushing Wake Forest 91-73 at the Assembly Hall on Dec. 1. After the win, the Illini took over the top spot in the national polls and held it for the remainder of the regular season, an amazing run of 15 straight weeks. Illinois was ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll of 2005, another first for the program. The Illini cruised to its second straight outright Big Ten Championship with a 15-1 record, as Weber became the first coach in 100 years of Big Ten basketball to win consecutive outright league championships in his first two seasons. The Illini also won the Big Ten Tournament, becoming just the second team to win both an outright Big Ten regular season title and the Big Ten Tournament in the same season.

Bruce Weber swept all the coaching accolades imaginable in 2005, being named National Coach of the Year by 10 organizations. Dee Brown was named The Sporting News National Player of the Year and swept the conference honors as well, being named both Big Ten Player of the Year and Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year. The Illini had three players earn consensus All-America honors in the same season for the first time ever. In addition to Brown earning consensus first-team All-America honors, Deron Williams and Luther Head were named consensus second-team All-Americans. Following the season, both Williams and Head were chosen in the first round of the NBA Draft, with Williams becoming the highest Illinois player ever drafted when he was chosen No. 3 overall by the Utah Jazz.

Illinois continued its winning ways in 2006, posting a 26-7 overall record in Bruce Weber's third season directing the Illini. It marked the program's sixth straight 25-win season, the longest in school history and doubling the longest streak of any team in Big Ten history. Illinois went undefeated in nonconference play for the second straight season and was in the race for a third straight conference title before finishing second in the league standings with an 11-5 record, missing the Big Ten crown by just one game. The Illini then made their seventh straight NCAA Tournament appearance, earning a No. 4 seed, and advanced to the second round. Seniors Dee Brown and James Augustine wrapped up their U1 tenure as the winningest players in school history, recording a school-record 114 career wins.

ASSEMBLY HALL

All media will enter the arena through the Northeast Entrance and will park in the Northeast lot, located on the corner of Kirby and Fourth Streets. After you enter the Assembly Hall concourse, turn left to access the media room. We will have wireless internet access and phone lines available in the media room where all press can work postgame. Occasionally, the Assembly Hall stage crew will be setting up for another event and the press row area will be taken down immediately following some games.

Before every home game a meal will be provided in the media room 1 1/2 hours prior to tip-off. You also may secure game programs, media guides and pre-game notes in the media room beginning two hours prior to tip-off.

COURTSIDE PHOTOGRAPHY

All photographers must work from within the designated areas behind the baselines of the playing court. The University of Illinois follows NCAA and Big Ten guidelines regarding event photography. Photo locations are first-come, first-served, but in the event of heavy demand for photo credentials for a particular game, shooting locations may be assigned.

Strobes—Photographers wishing to use strobe equipment at Illinois home games must notify the Illinois Sports Information staff at least one week in advance of the game for which they are requesting. There is a charge for installation and/or use of such equipment. A maximum of two strobe units may be used for any individual game.

All photographs are to be used in coverage of Illinois basketball and cannot be sold for any commercial enterprise benefiting the photographer. Should photos be sold commercially, credential privileges could be terminated.

CREDENTIALS

Any member of the media wishing to cover the Fighting Illini this season must request, in writing or by email, credentials from Kent Brown in the Sports Information Office. All requests must be in writing on your company letterhead and be either mailed, emailed or faxed to Kent Brown.

NO credential requests will be accepted over the phone.

Due to limitations in seating numbers, all requests will be prioritized according to published circulation numbers. Be specific when requesting the type of credential needed, either media or photo. Any non-working people in possession of a media credential will be asked to turn over the credential and leave the press area. No children are permitted in the press seating areas. Media agencies that violate this policy may not be issued credentials for future games.

The acceptance of media credentials is an acknowledgement of the University of Illinois' rights to the game and play-by-play coverage and an agreement to abide by any restrictions the Ul may place on real-time play-by-play coverage and use of comprehensive game statistics. Failure to abide by these restrictions implemented by the Ul may result in revocation of press credentials. The UI reserves the right to grant approval for distribution of real time play-by-play, game-related statistics and information through the internet.

Season requests should be received by Nov. 1.

Single-game requests should be made at least 10 days prior to the date of the game.

ROAD GAME/NEUTRAL SITE CREDENTIALS

Illinois media wishing to cover the Illini on the road should direct their credential request to the sports information director of the host institution. Please see below for credential requests for neutral site games.

PARKING

Email: eiser@xu.edu

A limited number of media parking passes are available for the 2006-07 men's basketball games at the Assembly Hall. The issuance of passes will be done on a priority basis with media who cover the University of Illinois basketball team on a regular basis holding the highest priority. Requests will then be prioritized according to circulation for newspapers and coverage area for radio and television. A replacement pass WILL NOT BE ISSUED IF THE ORIGINAL IS LOST. To avoid game traffic, media are encouraged to arrive at least 45 minutes prior to tip-off.

TELEPHONES

Charge-a-call lines will be provided in the working press room. Any individual wishing to order phone lines for the season or for a single game should direct the request to SBC (800) 321-8152 during regular business hours. Street address for the Assembly Hall is 1600 South First Street, Champaign, IL 61820. Post-game, all media are asked to utilize the phone lines in the working press room because the press row seating area on the floor will be taken down immediately following several games in preparation for the next event.

POSTGAME INFORMATION

Media are strongly encouraged to use the official University of Illinois athletics website — www.fightingillini.com to access the box score following home games.

Updated Illinois season statistics will be available following each game, except when traveling by commercial means and in that case the stats will be updated the next morning.

The University of Illinois will not be faxing its basketball releases to media personnel. All persons wishing to receive releases, stats, or box scores should retrieve the information off the official U1 athletics web site at www.fightingillini.com. To receive releases via email, contact SIDs Kent Brown or Detrick Burson.

WEB SITES

Media credentials are issued only for individuals who are affiliated with web sites for national or regional television and news media organizations, e.g. USA Today Online, ESPN.com, CNN/SI, CBS Sportsline, etc., for institutions that are conference members and non-conference opponents, and for the Big Ten Conference. The University of Illinois reserves the right to deny media credentials to any individual whose web site is not affiliated with an official news gathering organization.

WWW.FIGHTINGILLINI.COM

Illinois releases, statistics, audio and video of press conferences and live radio coverage of the Fighting Illini games are available on the official University of Illinois athletics web site, www.fightingillini.com. In addition to men's basketball, live audio is available on the web for football, women's basketball, volleyball, softball, baseball and the coaches' radio show broadcasts.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Illinois basketball practices will generally be open to the media, although Coach Bruce Weber reserves the right to close practices at his discretion. Media interested in attending practice should contact SIDs Kent Brown or Derrick Burson to confirm the time and place.

The Illinois basketball team will generally practice at 2:45 p.m. on weekdays and practice times on weekends will be listed as TBA. Most practices will be held at the Ubben Basketball Practice Facility, except for isolated times when the team will practice at the Assembly Hall. Please note that the locker room area, weight room and training room are off limits to members of the media. In order to avoid congestion on the floor area, media who attend practice are asked to watch from the balcony area on the second floor that overlooks the court at the Ubben Basketball Practice Facility.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

All interview requests for Illinois players, Bruce Weber and members of the Illini coaching staff should be cleared through Kent Brown or Derrick Burson in the Illinois Sports Information Office. Please give at least 24 hours advance notice for interview requests. On days of scheduled press conferences, players will be available for interviews before practice. Otherwise, Coach Weber, assistant coaches and players will be available for interviews following practice.

When the Illini are on the road, Illinois head coach Bruce Weber will be available for interviews for a few minutes after the scheduled practice. The final 20 minutes of practices are open to the media.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

The University of Illinois will utilize the media room, located on the Mezzanine Level on the Northeast side of the Assembly Hall, for postgame interviews. Head Coach Bruce Weber and selected Illinois players will be brought to this area for interviews, along with the opposing head coach. Opposing players will be available outside of their locker room. Player requests for the visiting team should be made through that school's Basketball SID. If you need to interview an Illinois player who has not been requested for the interview room, please make specific arrangements with a member of the Illinois Sports Information staff. The normal schedule will begin with selected Illinois players, followed by the opposing coach, then Bruce Weber.

BRUCE WEBER TV SHOW

This weekly 30-minute television program, hosted by Jason Elliott of WCIA-TV in Champaign, features game highlights and interviews with coaches, players and others involved with the Illinois basketball program. Viewers should consult their local listings for the dates and times of the telecasts in their area.

BRUCE WEBER RADIO SHOW

The Bruce Weber Show is a weekly call-in radio show aired statewide on the Illini Sports Network. The show is hosted by Illini play-byplay announcer Brian Barnhart and airs Mondays from 7-8 p.m. beginning Dec. 4. (L-R): Former Illini great Jerry Hester and Brian Barnhart team up for Fighting Illini Basketball broadcasts on the Illini Sports Network.

The 47-station Illini Sports Network will once again bring Fighting Illini basketball to fans across the state with Brian Barnhart, former Illini great Jerry Hester, and Loren Tate calling the action from courtside.

Barnhart is in his fifth season as the "Voice of the Illini" after a long stint in professional baseball, including two years as the play-by-play voice of the Anaheim Angels. Barnhart serves as the voice of the Illini Sports Network, providing play-by-play coverage of football and men's basketball and as the host of the statewide "Ron Zook Show" and "Bruce Weber Show" call-in programs held weekly at 7 p.m. during the season (Thursdays for Zook show, Mondays for Weber show).

A native of nearby Tolono, Barnhart graduated from Unity High School and Liberty University before beginning a 15-year career in professional baseball in 1986. He served as the play-by-play voice of the Lynchburg Mets and Salem Buccaneers before moving up to the Oklahoma City 89ers, the Class AAA affiliate of the Texas Rangers, from 1988-94. Barnhart did high school football and other sport play-by-play for 11 years and was also the voice for Oklahoma Baptist basketball from 1992-94 and Oklahoma City Blazers minor league hockey in 1993. From 1996-98, he handled news, sports and play-by-play at WWLS in Oklahoma City.

In 1998, Barnhart was named the play-byplay announcer for the Angels and spent two full seasons with the American League club before returning to the Champaign-Urbana area in 2000. He currently is a news and sports announcer at WDWS-AM 1400 in Champaign.

Jerry Hester is now in his second season serving as the expert analyst on Illini Sports Network men's basketball broadcasts. Hester started at Illinois from 1994-98 and was a key member of the UI's 1998 Big Ten Championship team. Following graduation, he played professionally in Poland, England and Italy. Hester is currently a financial advisor with Northwestern Mutual.

Joining Barnhart and Hester on the broadcast again this year is Loren Tate, who will handle pre-game, halftime and post-game host duties. Tate, now in his 52nd year covering the Fighting Illini, is a longtime sports columnist and former sports editor of The News-Gazette in Champaign. He has also covered Illinois for decades as a radio and television broadcaster.

The statewide Illini Sports Network is managed by the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics, including distribution, sales operations, affiliate relations and programming. ISN programming includes Illinois football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and baseball, along with the "Illini Today" series. The "Bruce Weber Show" can be heard statewide on the Illini Sports Network each Monday beginning Dec. 4 at 7 p.m. For information, contact Marty Kaufmann at (217) 244-6532.
